

EX LIBRIS

The Yellow Jacket Annual

VOLUME XIX

MCMXVII

Published by The Literary Societies
of
Randolph-Macon College
Ashland, Virginia

To
HALL CANTER, A. M. Ph. D.

a man who, by his love for his Alma Mater, by his efficient instruction, and by his gentlemanly character, has ingratiated himself into the hearts of his students, we respectfully dedicate this volume of the Yellow Jacket.

HALL CANTER

HALL CANTER

IN the family from which Dr. Hall Canter springs it is no distinction to answer to the designation "doctor" for all the male members of his immediate family worthily wear this degree. His father, Dr. Isaac W. Canter, and his younger brother, Dr. H. M. Canter, are honored members of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, while his younger brother, Noland M. Canter, a doctor of medicine of The Johns Hopkins University, is practicing his profession in West Virginia.

But Dr. Hall Canter is the only member of his family in whose case the title "doctor" retains its original meaning of teacher. In him, however, this meaning is fully expressed. He is a teacher not only by title and profession but also in nature and achievement.

Born in Baltimore, Md., April 5th, 1873, he laid the foundations of his life work as a teacher in the public schools of that city and at a private academy. This early work must have been done with dispatch and thoroughness, for at the age of fifteen years he began to teach in the public schools of Virginia.

With such a beginning we are not surprised to find that at the age of nineteen he was graduated with the degree of A.B. from Randolph-Macon College. At this institution, after three years' service as teacher at Randolph-Macon Academy, Front Royal, Va., he was again a student for one year, and was graduated in 1897 with the degree of A.M.

From Randolph-Macon College he went to Johns Hopkins University, where he spent three years. The first year he held a scholarship, the second year an honorary scholarship, he was assistant in chemistry the third year, at the close of which in 1900 he received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

He was immediately elected Associate Professor of Chemistry in Tulane University, but had filled this place only a few weeks when he was called to serve his Alma Mater as Professor of Chemistry, a position in which, despite flattering offers elsewhere, he has chosen to remain.

In his college days he was a good student but not a mere student. His social qualities found expression as a member of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity and his athletic ability made him a famous first baseman.

Nor as a member of the faculty has he forgotten other interests. He has been President of the Eastern Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Association, has served the town as Chairman of the School Board, and is the teacher of a Sunday School class which is constantly growing in members and efficiency.

While he thus serves his college and community he also keeps in touch with the larger circles of life and scholarship. He is a member of the University Club of Richmond, has served as President of the Virginia Chemists' Club, is a member of the American Chemical Society, the National Geographic Society, and a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

In the midst of these varied activities he still finds time for authorship. "Studies in Aromatic Sulphonic Acids and Derivatives" as also in "Ortho phenyl sulphone benzoic Acid" are products of his active mind and facile pen.

But after all, teaching is his work; his lecture room his place of power. Here, he is singularly interesting, clear, accurate, ready, rapid. His students, without detracting in the least from any of these epithets, would sometimes, perhaps, after an unusually busy hour of taking notes be disposed to give rather warm assent to his readiness and rapidity.

THOS. M. JONES.

Book I

Contents

Sponsor
Faculty
Board of Trustees Alumni

ALICE IN NEW WONDERLAND

Seniors
Juniors
Sophomores
Freshmen

MISS AGNES WRIGHT
Sponsor Book I

CAMPUS

STUDENT BODY

CAMPUS

STUDENT BODY

CALENDAR

Thursday, September 14, 1916, first term begins.

Wednesday, January 3, 1917, second term begins.

Tuesday, April 10, 1917, third term begins.

Wednesday, June 13, 1917, session closes.

HOLIDAYS

Friday, December 22, 1916, College closes for Christmas.

Thanksgiving Day is observed as a holiday.

Easter: Friday, April 6th, to Monday, April 9, 1917.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES JUNE, 1917

Sunday, June 10th:

11 A. M. Annual Baccalaureate Sermon.

8 P. M. Sermon before Y. M. C. A. of the college.

Monday, June 11th:

Meeting of the Board of Trustees.

9 P. M. Fraternity Celebrations.

Tuesday, June 12th:

11 A. M. Address before the Alumni Society.

12 M. Contest for Sutherlin Medal for Oratory.

8 P. M. Celebration of the Washington and the Franklin Literary Societies.

Wednesday, June 13th:

12 M. Annual Commencement Address.

1 P. M. Conferring Degrees on Graduates.

8 P. M. Celebration of Exercises of the Class of 1917.

FOREWORD

WE have completed the XIXth volume of the Yellow Jacket. We present it to you, our fellow students, with no apologies nor requests for compliments. It depicts you and you have made it. Your help and contributions have been appreciated, and we trust this volume justifies the confidence you placed in us. Our chief aim and endeavor has been to make this a true portrayal of you, and, if we have succeeded, we have you to thank.

The task has been a pleasant one and "after life's fitful fever we sleep," so far as this book is concerned. We are so accustomed to hear the noise of typewriters and the din of confusion that, with the pleasantness of our work and a few worries thrown in, we fell despondently inclined to relinquish this book. But the end is reached and would that it had been a perfect day, but, since that is impossible, with sighs and regrets we are constrained to remind ourselves of what has not been done, and thus mirrowing ourselves, we, more plainly than you, see our shortcomings, and are grieved over them.

We leave to you this memoir of your college days, and hope that, in posterity, when hoary age has settled its silvery rays on your fettered brows, you may be reminded of fond memories and pleasant reminiscences of Randolph-Macon, by this, the XIXth volume of the Yellow Jacket.

APPRECIATION

The Staff of the 1916-17 Yellow Jacket is indebted to Mr. R. B. Marston for some of the Senior sketches; Mr. H. S. Libis for his kodak work and readiness to lend assistance at all times; Y. Ibara for his untiring work on the art section; Messrs. Copley and Turner and Richardson for drawings.

We are also indebted to Dr. T. M. Jones for writing the sketch of Dr. Canter, and to Miss Marguerite Archambault for the frontispiece and other art work.

Lastly, our sincere appreciation is given to the student body, faculty, and college, who have rendered assistance in numerous ways.

Yellow Jacket Annual Staff.

YELLOW JACKET ANNUAL STAFF

1916-17

James Manning Potts, Editor-in-Chief.

Wilber Finkbine Shryock, Business Manager.

ASSISTANT EDITORS

George Spottswood Reamy.....	Book I.
James Edward Moyler.....	Book II.
Harold Sample Libis.....	Book III.
Harris Magruder Waters.....	Book IV.
Littleton Holland Mears.....	Associate

ART EDITORS

Yasushi Ihara.

John Alexander Rorer.

ASSISTANT BUSINESS MANAGER

Andrew Edmund Brewer.

George Beverly West.

Raymond Bruce Owens

Officers Of The Society of The Alumni
of
Randolph-Macon College, 1916-17

Dr. E. E. Smith.....	President
Prof. A. K. Davis.....	First Vice-President
Dr. S. A. Steger.....	Second Vice-President
Prof. R. B. Smithey.....	Recording Secretary
Prof. E. W. Bowen.....	Corresponding Secretary
Rev. R. M. White.....	Alumni Recorder

MEDALISTS

Sutherlin Medal for Oratory.....	J. Manning Potts.....	Virginia
Murray Medal for Scholarship.....	V. B. Heltzel.....	West Virginia
Murray Medal for Proficiency.....	A. C. Blackwell.....	Virginia
William A. Shepard Chemistry Medal...	E. H. Swift.....	Virginia
L. L. Merritt Athletic Medal.....	Gates R. Richardson.....	Virginia

Washington Literary Society

Orator's Medal.....	H. L. Coffman.....	West Virginia
Debater's Medal.....	W. W. Beasley.....	Maryland
Essayist's Medal.....	V. B. Heltzel.....	West Virginia
Declaimer's Medal.....	J. H. Shumate.....	Virginia

Franklin Literary Society

Orator's Medal.....	J. A. Rorer.....	Virginia
Debater's Medal.....	J. Manning Potts.....	Virginia
Declaimer's Medal.....	T. L. Coe.....	Massachusetts

Board of Trustees

Judge E. D. Newman.....	President.
Rev. B. F. Lipscomb.....	First Vice-President.
Rev. W. E. Judkins, D.D.....	Second Vice-President.
Samuel C. Hatcher.....	Secretary.
W. W. Vicar.....	Recording Secretary.

Board of Trustees

	Elected
*Bishop Alpheus W. Wilson.....	Baltimore, Md.....1871
James B. Pace.....	Richmond, Va.....1876
Hon. Richard B. Davis.....	Petersburg, Va.....1877
Rev. W. E. Judkins, D.D.....	Norfolk, Va.....1883
*E. S. Conrad.....	Harrisonburg, Va.....1885
P. V. D. Conway.....	Fredericksburg, Va.....1886
Rev. Richard Ferguson.....	Marengo, Va.....1887
Rev. S. S. Lambeth, D.D.....	Bedford City, Va.....1888
J. P. Pettyjohn.....	Lynchburg, Va.....1888
Judge E. D. Newman.....	Woodstock, Va.....1888
F. H. Chalmers.....	Fallston, Md.....1891
Rev. B. F. Lipscomb, D. D.....	Petersburg, Va.....1892
Rev. J. W. Duffey, D. D.....	Alexandria, Va.....1892
Judge R. W. Peatross.....	Danville, Va.....1894
Rev. David Bush, D. D.....	Vinton, Va.....1895
Rev. J. C. Reed, D. D.....	Hampton, Va.....1897
Rev. J. T. Mastin, D. D.....	Richmond, Va.....1899
Rev. B. W. Bond, D. D.....	Baltimore, Md.....1887-1889
W. W. Vear.....	Norfolk, Va.....1889-1902
Rev. J. Wiley Bledsoe, D. D.....	Orange, Va.....1900
Rev. T. McN. Simpson, D. D.....	Richmond, Va.....1900
A. J. McMath.....	Onley, Va.....1900
Adrian C. Nadenbousch.....	Martinburg, W. Va.....1900
C. W. Hardwicke.....	Richmond, Va.....1902
E. F. Sheffrey.....	Lynchburg, Va.....1902
Rev. John A. Anderson.....	Winchester, Va.....1902
H. Seldon Taylor.....	Richmond, Va.....1903
Frank L. Crocker.....	Portsmouth, Va.....1903
Charles W. Prettyman.....	Rockville, Md.....1905
Charles M. Armstrong.....	Baltimore, Md.....1906
Rev. W. W. Lear, D. D.....	Emporia, Va.....1906
Rev. W. H. Edwards, D. D.....	Lynchburg, Va.....1907
Rev. S. C. Hatcher.....	Ashland, Va.....1907
Rev. R. M. Chandler.....	Franklin, Va.....1907
W. H. Vincent.....	Capron, Va.....1908
Rev. R. L. Fultz.....	Lewisburg, W. Va.....1908
John L. Roper.....	Norfolk, Va.....1914
Rev. D. H. Kern, D. D.....	Alexandria, Va.....1914
Rev. H. H. Sherman, D. D.....	Staunton, Va.....1914
Rev. J. N. Latham, D. D.....	Danville, Va.....1914
Rev. J. W. Shackford.....	Nashville, Tenn.....1914
I. N. Vaughan.....	Richmond, Va.....1914
C. W. Rav.....	Brightwood, D. C.....1915
J. T. Catlin.....	Danville, Va.....1915

*Deceased.

FACULTY

ROBERT EMORY BLACKWELL, A.M., LL.D., Φ B K.
PRESIDENT AND PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH

Preparatory Education at Bethel Academy, Va., 1856-8; A.M., Randolph-Macon College, 1874; Student at the University of Leipzig, 1875-6; Professor in Randolph-Macon College since 1876. Vice-President, ibid., 1900-2; President, ibid., since 1902; Member Modern Language Association of America; Member of American Religious Associations; Author, with J. A. Harrison, "Easy Lessons in French"; and, with W. W. Smith, of "Parallel Syntax Chart"; of "Were the Ancients Acquainted with America?"; and of an article on "Matthew Arnold's Letters"—(1896); Member of "Kappa Alpha Fraternity."

ROYALL BASCOM SMITHEY, A.M., LLT.D., Φ B K.
PROFESSOR OF MATHEMATICS

A.B., Randolph-Macon College, 1876; A.M., Randolph-Macon College, 1876; LLT.D., 1908; Present Position since 1878; Member American Historical Association; Member American Mathematical Society; Author of "History of Virginia" 1898; of "Civil Government of Virginia" 1898; Contributor to Periodicals; Member of "Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity."

EDWIN WINFIELD BOWEN, A.M., PH.D.
PROFESSOR OF LATIN

A.B., Randolph-Macon College, 1887; A.M., ibid., 1889; Principal of Middleburg (Va.) Classical School, 1887-8; Post-graduate Student at Johns Hopkins University, 1889-92; Ph.D., ibid., 1892 Assistant Professor of English at University of Missouri, 1892-3; Student at University of Leipzig, 1893-4; Book Reviewer "New York Times Saturday Review", 1903-4; Contributor to "Encyclopedia Americana" and to American and Foreign Periodicals; Member of American Philological Association and of Modern Language Association of America; Author of "Historical Study of the E-Vowel in English" (1893), of "A History of the O-Vowel in English" (1895), of "Cicero de Amicitia" and "Cicero de Senectute" (1909), of "Makers of American Literature" (1907); and of "Questions at Issue in Our English Speech" (1909).

THOMAS MADISON JONES, A.B., PH.D.

PROFESSOR OF GREEK

Preparatory Education in Public Schools of Highland County, Va., and under James W. Johnson. Became a member of the Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church, South, 1885; A.B., Randolph-Macon College, 1894; Professor Randolph-Macon Academy, Bedford City, Va., 1895; Graduate Student of Latin, Greek and German, Johns Hopkins University, 1895-8; held University Scholarship, ibid., 1898; Professor of Ancient Languages, Emory and Henry College, 1898-1900; Ph.D. Johns Hopkins University, 1903; Attended University of Chicago in the summers of 1900 and 1904; Became Professor of Greek and German in Randolph-Macon College, 1900; and in 1905, Professor of Greek.

HALL CANTER, A.M., PH.D.

PROFESSOR OF CHEMISTRY AND GEOLOGY.

A.B., Randolph-Macon College, 1892; Teacher at Randolph-Macon Academy, Front Royal, Va., 1892-5; A.M., Randolph-Macon College, 1896; Ph.D. Johns Hopkins University, 1900; Honorary Scholar in Chemistry, ibid., 1898-9; Assistant in Chemistry, ibid., 1899-1900; Associate Professor of Chemistry, Tulane University, 1900; Present position since 1901; President Virginia Chapter Hopkins Alumni, 1908-9; President Intercollegiate Athletic Association, 1907-8 Author of "Studies in Aromatic Sulphonic Acids"; also of "Ortho phenyl sulphone benzoic Acid". Member of the American Chemical Society; Member of the National Geographic Society; Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science; Member of the "Kappa Alpha Fraternity".

JOHN ROBERTS FISHER, A.M., PH.D., Φ B K

PROFESSOR OF MODERN LANGUAGE

A.B., Vanderbilt University, 1904; A.M., Vanderbilt University, 1905; Ph.D., Columbia University, 1916; Published an edition of "La Vie de Saint Eustache", poem of the 13th century from the MSS. of Paris and London. Student at the University of Grenoble and Paris, 1909-10. Member of Modern Language Association of America; Member of "Delta Tau Delta" Fraternity.

WILLIAM LEE DOLLY, JR., A.M., PH.D.

PROFESSOR OF BIOLOGY

Preparatory Education at Central High School, Washington, D.C., 1901-4; A.B., Randolph-Macon College, 1907; A.M., Randolph-Macon College, 1908; Professor Randolph-Macon Academy, Front Royal, Va., 1908-9; Teacher in private schools in Washington, D. C., 1909-10; Instructor in Biology, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, 1910-11; Student Assistant in General Biology and Embryology, Johns Hopkins University, 1911-13; Hopkins Scholar, Johns Hopkins University, 1913-14; Ph.D., Johns Hopkins University, 1914; Present position since 1914. Member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science;

Member of the American Society of Zoologists; Member of the "Kappa Sigma Fraternity"; Member of the "Gamma Alpha Fraternity" (Scientific); Member of the "Chi Beta Phi Fraternity" (Scientific); Member of the "Sigma Upsilon Fraternity" (Literary).

HARLEY EARL HOWE, B.S., A.M., PH.D.

PROFESSOR OF PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY ADJUNCT PROFESSOR OF MATHEMATICS

B.S., in Education, University of Missouri, 1906; A.M., Cornell University, 1909; Ph.D., Cornell University, 1916; Assistant Professor of Physics, University of Missouri, 1905-08; Instructor in Physics, Cornell University, 1909-12; Present position since 1912. Member of American Association for the Advancement of Science; Member "Sigma Xi Fraternity" (Scientific); Member of "Gamma Alpha Fraternity" (Graduate).

CHARLES HENRY AMBLER, A.M., PH.D., Φ B K

PROFESSOR OF HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

Graduate at the West Liberty State Normal, W.L., W. Va., 1900; A.B., West Virginia University, 1904; A.M., ibid., 1905; Ph.D., University of Wisconsin, 1908; Teacher in Graded Schools of West Virginia, 1895-1900; Assistant in Department of History, West Virginia University, 1903-5; Scholar in American History, University of Wisconsin, 1905-6; Fellow in American History, ibid., 1906-7; Assistant in American History, ibid., 1907-8; Ph.D., University of Wisconsin, 1908; Present position since 1908; Editor of 'John P. Branch Historical Papers'; Member American Historical Association; Member American Political Science Association; Member American Geological Society; Author of "Sectionalism in Virginia from 1777 to 1861" (1910); of "Thomas Ritchie—A Study in Virginia Politics" (1913); Member of State Board of Examiners for Teachers of the State of West Virginia, 1904-8; Lecturer for Teacher's Institute, State of West Virginia, 1903-8; Member of "Sigma Nu Fraternity."

JOHN ADAM KERN, D.D.

PROFESSOR OF CHRISTIAN INSTITUTIONS AND SERVICE

Student University of Virginia, 1868-70; D.D., Washington & Lee University, 1888; Professor of Moral Philosophy, 1886-99, Vice-President 1893-97, President 1897-99, Randolph-Macon College; Professor of Practical Theology, Vanderbilt University, 1899-1914; Present position since 1914; Author, "The Ministry to the Congregation" (1897), "The Way of the Preacher" (1902), "The Idea of the Church" (1907), "The Listening Heart" (1907), "A Study of Christianity as Organized" (1910), "Vision and Power" (1915).

FRANK LEIGHTON DAY, A.M., PH.D.

PROFESSOR OF MORAL PHILOSOPHY AND ENGLISH BIBLE

A.B. and A.M., Roanoke College, 1891; B.D., Vanderbilt University, 1895; Ph.D., George Washington University, 1902; Student at the University of Chicago, 1903-5; Student at the University of Berlin, summer of 1906; Professor of Semitic Language and Literatures, George Washington University, 1905-8; Present position since 1908; Member of the Archaeological Institute of America; Member of the Southern Society for Philosophy; Member of the Exegetical Society of America; Member of Religious Education of America Society; Member of the "Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity."

HENRY GRANT ELLIS, A.B.

ADJUNCT PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH

A.B., Randolph-Macon College, 1910; Principal Washington-Henry High School, 1910-11; Chief Cataloger, Virginia State Library, 1911-12, Present position since September, 1912; Mayor of Ashland, 1912-15; Graduate Student at Columbia University, summers of 1914 and 1915; "Author of Edmund Ruffin, His Life and Times," in Branch Historical Papers; and contributions to periodicals; Member of "Kappa Sigma" Fraternity and "Sigma Upsilon" (Literary) Fraternity.

LEWIS W. RIESS.

DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL CULTURE

Attended Pennington Preparatory School, 1906; Temple College and Union Business College; Partial Matriculate at Randolph-Macon College, 1913-16; Coach at Hampden-Sydney College, 1908-11; Coach at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, 1911-12; Present position in the capacity of physical director and coach since, 1912.

A. CHAMBERS RAY, A.B., M.D.

COLLEGE PHYSICIAN

A.B., Randolph-Macon College, 1893; Taught Mathematics at Quitman College, Arkansas, 1893-4; M.D., University College of Medicine, Richmond, Va., 1897; Located in Botetourt County, 1897; Hospital Service and Post-Graduate Work, New York, 1898-9; Elected Physician of Randolph-Macon College, 1906; Member Richmond Academy of Medicine and Surgery; Alumni Association of the University College of Medicine; Fellow of Virginia State Medical Society.

DANIEL T. MERRITT, A.B., B.D.

CHAPLAIN

A.B., Randolph-Macon College, 1895; B.D., Vanderbilt University, 1898; Joined Virginia Conference, 1898; Served churches in Norfolk, Richmond, and Smithfield, and present pastorate in Ashland since November, 1916. Member of the "Chi Phi" Fraternity.

SAMUEL CLAIBORNE HATCHER, D.D.

VICE-PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY AND TREASURER

Preparatory education, McGuire's School, Richmond, Va.; Student at Randolph-Macon College, 1890-93; D.D., ibid., 1910; Member Virginia Conference since 1893; Trustee, Randolph-Macon College since 1907; Chairman, State Board of Charities and Corrections since 1910; Member Ecumenical Conference, 1911; Present position since 1911; mason (K. T.); Member of "Phi Kappa Sigma" Fraternity.

MRS. CARRIE ELLIS HARTSOOK

LIBRARY AND OFFICE SECRETARY

MRS. ARTHUR C. WIGHTMAN

ASSISTANT OFFICE SECRETARY

Remembrances

Upon a cloudless autumn day
I strolled into a dell,
And there the pensive thoughts of you
Around me cast a spell.

In varied hues of tinted leaves
I saw a vision rare—
I saw your radiant, smiling face—
I saw your golden hair.

Across the rolling meadow green
The glist'ning brooklet sang,
And through the valley near and far
The Murm'ring echoes rang.

The plaintive note of cooing dove
From ancient cedar came,
And wafted on the balmy breeze,
In accents soft, your name.

These little thoughts in nature's song
Are each an emblem true,
That bring to me, my tender flow'r,
Remembrances of you.

J. EDWARD MOYLER.

SENIOR

Senior Class Poem

Is this the end? What meaning has it all?
These days here spent of toil, of sacrifice,
Of strife through tedious years? And shall we call
Our work complete, nor look with longing eyes?
To other scenes, where other duties rise?
As surely as our college life is done,
So surely has a greater work begun.

No, this is not the end. We journey on.
The goal we've sought is reached, and here we stay
Just for a little moment ere we're gone.
How sweet to linger here, where day by day,
With fellow comrades, we have whiled away
The happy hours that sped along too fast,—
That seem the happier now, since they are past.

And soon we shall be gone. A thousand days
Have passed since first we came to this dear spot.
A thousand mem'ries crowd, in many ways,
Of friendships formed, which ne'er will be forgot,
Where'er we go, whatever be our lot.
As we review these days of yesteryears,
The brightness lingers, darkness disappears.

Our greatest trials then, since they are o'er,
Now, at the distance viewed, seem trite and small;
The rugged hills we've climbed, faint and foot-sore,
Seem, from the summit viewed, not rough at all.
Now as we leave these halls, there comes a call
As with a bugle blast so loud and clear,
The summons falls upon our listening ear,

Go forth, a nation calls for you, advance!
Nor heedless stay, but join life's mighty throng.
Though rougher roads and higher steep, perchance,
Beset your pathway as you march along,
Yet loiter not, "Quit you like men, be strong."
Great opportunities await for you,
Gird on your shields, and to yourselves be true.

O Alma Mater, Randolph-Macon, dear,
We leave thy classic halls, but ne'er shall we Depart from all thy precepts taught us here.
May thy great worth in us reflected be,
In all our acts may we thy standards see,
And may the love of thy unsullied name
Inspire us to a life of highest aim.

As we shall go out on our daily task,
In quest of earthly gain or treasure rare,
May the Divine will be our guide. We ask
No more. If some inspiring thought we bear
May lift a burden or relieve a care,
Or make a weary soul take heart again,
Our mission then will not have been in vain.

And now, dear class, our pathway must divide;
Though separate be our course, our hearts unite
In purpose pure, whatever may betide,
Where duty calls, to work with all our might,
Act well our parts, and ever stand for right.
The little trials come to test a man—
Go forth, and know they win who think they can.

JAMES EDWARD MOYLER.

The Class of Nineteen Seventeen

OFFICERS.

President
Samuel Thomas Emory

Vice-President
Joseph Clarence Jett.
Treasurer
Harris Magruder Waters

Secretary
Frank Patterson Christian, Jr.
Historian
George Russell Maloney

Motto: Esse quam videri

Colors: Crimson and Gold

Flower: Red Carnation

MEMBERS

Christian, F. P., Jr.
Dunn, M. H.
Emory, S. T.
Gravely, Paul
Hudnall, J. S.
Ibara, Y.
Jett, J. C.
Kelly, S. G.
Lawson, R. B.
Maloney, G. R.

Mears, L. H.
Moyler, J. E.
McNeal, K.
Newman, D. C.
Owens, R. B.
Parker, M. F.
Potts, J. M.
Reamey, G. S.
Rorer, J. A.
Waters, H. M.

West, E. S.

Poet: James Edward Moyler
Valedictorian: J. A. Rorer

Playwright: John Alexander Rorer
Salutatorian: M. H. Dunn

FRANK PATTERSON CHRISTIAN
A.B., Φ Δ Φ Γ
LYNCHBURG, VA.

Franklin Literary Society.

Honors: Treas. Freshman Class, 1913-14; Vice-President Sophomore Class, 1914-15; President Junior Class, 1915-16; Orchestra, 1913-14; Football Team, 1914-15-16; Secretary Senior Class, 1916-17; Mandolin Club, 1916-17; President Cotillion Club, 1915-16; Board of Monitors, 1916-17; President Athletic Board, 1916-17; Manager Baseball Team, 1917; Asst. Cheer Leader, 1916-17. B. L. A. K. I.

Here we have the "all 'round" college man in his highest state of evolution; a man whose strong initiative and natural abilities have led him into every phase of college activity. He is, however, not merely an active participant, but a leader, in the wide and diversified fields of his endeavors.

As an athlete Frank has shone like a star of the first magnitude. Indeed, never has a gridiron conflict been waged in which he has borne the Lemon and Black of his Alma Mater that his spectacular playing has not featured the game. In such high esteem has Frank's athletic ability been held at Randolph-Macon that, when the election of the Athletic Board for the past session was held, he was the unanimous choice for President.

Frank is "some" musician too, and here again his popularity was demonstrated by the fact that he was chosen leader of the Mandolin Club. He is a true disciple of Terpsichore and were the mythological graces to be enumerated at a later day, we have no doubt that their number would be increased by the addition of another name.

Despite all of his honors Frank is not conceited. He is natural and unaffected and it is as the individual and friend that we know and admire him most. He is light hearted and generous, but possessed of a keen intellect and sober judgment. To those who seek amusement he is a most acceptable companion. To those who follow the more quiet and serious pursuits of life he is no less acceptable as an associate and friend.

The best wish that we can possibly have for Frank in the future is that his career in the world at large may be attended by as much success as it has in the past at Randolph-Macon.

MELVILLE HUNTER DUNN A.B.

K Σ; T K A Σ Y

ASHLAND, VA.

Washington Literary Society

Honors: Marshall Wash Hall Public Night, 1914-15; Class Baseball Team 1914-15; William and Mary Intercollegiate Debate 1915-16; President Wash Hall 1916-17; President Hanover Cotillion Club 1916-17; Chief-Marshall Wash Hall Celebration 1916-17; Instructor in Latin 1916-17; Vice-President William and Mary Debate 1916-17; Editor-in-Chief Yellow Jacket Weekly 1916-17; Sutherlin Oratorical Contest 1916-17; Salutatorian Senior Class 1916-17; B.L., A.K., I.

In practically all graduating classes from this institution there is at least one representative from Ashland. To this class of representatives Hunter Dunn belongs and the credit which through college channels he has reflected upon his busy little town influences us to rank him among her most zealous patrons.

Some one has written that personality is the key to success. But he has more than personality to guarantee the coveted crown of laurels. He has ability. And not only has his class work reflected his ability; but as editor of the college paper, as an intercollegiate debater, as an assistant in the college Latin department he has proven the temper of his true worth. In all these things are we of the opinion that his influence and work have been of a high order. And in all he has won, without practicing political creeds, what politicians desire most—unqualified popularity. His cheery smile, his wholeheartedness and his aptitude for adapting himself to all occasions have made him a man who is courted by the students at large,—and, we hear, by the fair maidens of his home town who are famed for their beauty and charm.

To one so gifted as Hunter with the attributes that token manliness we can not but believe that Life holds her treasures in store, ready to trust them to him when the time is ripe. The student body wishes him without qualification a useful and happy career.

SAMUEL THOMAS EMORY, A.B.
K Σ; Σ Y; Γ
CHASE CITY, VA.

Washington Literary Society.

Honors: Chief-Marshall Wash Hall Public Debate, 1915-16; Chief-Marshall William and Mary-Richmond College Debate, 1916-17; Board of Publications 1916-17; Censor, Vice-President and President of Wash Hall, 1916-17; President Wash Hall Public Night, 1916-17; President Wash Hall Celebration, 1916-17; President Senior Class, 1916-17.

It is rare for one to find a college man whose qualities and whose attainments are so attractive as these we find in Samuel Thomas Emory. His abilities and interests are widely recognized. He has always been active in college affairs and as testimony we offer the following instances: that he has proved a wise and efficient administrator as President of his literary society and he has enjoyed this year the honorable distinction of serving the Senior Class as its President.

Popular, pleasing in conduct and appearance, skillful in the art of choosing and making friends, true to a comrade's obligations, capable of maintaining interest in conversation along literary lines, Sam has won a permanent place in the hearts of his classmates. His carriage is easy. He is as equally at home in social gatherings as in the chemical laboratory where, because of his singular ability in chemistry, he is called Scheele. Everyone likes him; therefore is pleased when some new success adds itself to his already brimming repertoire.

Most of us think Sam would make an excellent lawyer; but it is his decision to return home, there to take a share in his father's business. We wish him well; we wish him a long and happy life, hoping that before the Long Journey is over we shall not only hear of his winning a large success but that we shall each of us have the pleasure of meeting him again under other happy skies.

PAUL GRAVELY A.B.
MARTINSVILLE, VA.

Washington Literary Society

Honors: Collector Wash Hall, 1915-16; Timekeeper Preliminary Debate, 1915-16; Vice-President Wash Hall, 1916-17.

The young man whose likeness appears above is our delegate from Martinsville, Virginia, a town that claims the enviable distinction of having been represented at our institution for a consecutive number of years. To the faculty he is, Mr. Paul Gravely the Twister, but to his fellow-students, he is known by the familiar appellation of "Judge," in recognition of his logical habits of thought and his dignified demeanor. He has an undying love and loyalty for the scenes of his childhood, and the best method yet discovered, of winning his respect and confidence is a favorable reference to his home town.

He is not only loyal to his home town but also to his college and all of its institutions, especially, Wash Hall. He is pre-eminently a Hall man and few are the Saturday nights during his four years on the campus that have found him absent from the meetings of the Society. As a debater, his clear grasp of a subject and his cold reasoning have prevailed on not a few occasions. He has served on many of the important committees of Wash Hall, and as a collector he possessed the rare capacity of extracting money from the "fresh fish." "Judge" is a constitutionalist, that is, he believes in a strict application of the constitution of the Society, and many are the times that his voice has been raised when the provisions of that document were violated.

In his classes, to which he has applied himself with characteristic thoroughness and regularity, he has achieved deserved success. He finds great sport in wrestling with such infernal instruments of torture as Math II and III, and Physics II, and his care and accuracy in his work have placed him among the best students of the Senior class.

Paul has made good at college, and in whatever work he may engage in life nothing short of a large measure of success will fulfill our expectations.

JAMES SNOWDEN HUDNALL
A.B.

SUNNYBANK, VA.

Washington Literary Society

Honors: Football Team 1915-16-
17; Athletic Board 1916-17.

When the mellow autumnal breezes of 1913 were strewing, with their fragrant zephyrs, the red and brown leaves over the verdant campus of Randolph-Macon, there arrived in this historic municipality, the ponderous personage whose likeness appears above. He came with the avowed intention of "twisting" certain dignified members of the Faculty, and his ambition has been materially realized. As a student, he has always ranked among the first, although at no time during his college career has he been observed in any stringent inspection of such commodities as textbooks.

In addition to the aforementioned qualifications of a student, Hudnall is an athlete, and as such has won fame for himself and his Alma Mater. As tackle on the Varsity eleven, he has been responsible for the disruption of many a carefully contrived formation of the opposing team, while on numerous occasions he has been instrumental in a substantial gain.

However, above everything else, the man himself appeals to us. Pleasant, amiable, of charming personality, a jovial companion, he is one of those rare fellows who is popular with every one whom he encounters. Endowed with such characteristics, he will make friends wherever the hand of Destiny may guide him. We may be sure that success will crown his efforts, and his after-life will bring honor and glory to the name Randolph-Macon.

YASUSHI IBARA
A.B.

UWAJIMA, JAPAN

Washington Literary Society

Honors: Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 1915-16-17; Art Editor Annual, 1915-16-17; Secretary Wash Hall, 1916; Wash Hall Public Debate, 1916; Vice-President Wash Hall, 1916.

We have here one of the most civilized heathens in captivity. Yasushi Ibara comes from Uwajima, Japan. During his stay at Randolph-Macon he has captured an A.B. in such a thorough way that it can not escape. But that is only one of the many things that he has done. He has become for better or for worst, thoroughly Americanized.

Ibara is a man who will be missed from our student body. When he leaves we shall have lost a staunch supporter of our athletic teams; the Y. M. C. A. will have lost a hard worker; Wash Hall will have lost a faithful supporter; but greater still, the Yellow Jacket will have lost its artist. In proof of this we only ask you, fair reader, to glance through these pages and where a drawing is found, Ibara's name is almost sure to accompany it. The student body will have lost a friend, for with his bright amiable disposition he has won the hearts of all.

Ibara is not a one-sided student. He masters every class he enters. We might say, however, that Biology is his specialty. In fact, he calls the second Biological Laboratory his office. He possesses a valuable collection of snake skins and cat skulls, in fact he can name the three hundred bones in the anatomy of a cat with the same ease in Japanese or English.

He is a man that will do great things for his native land. After getting a Ph.D. in America he expects to return to his oriental home and do what he can for the uplift of his race.

JOSEPH CLARENCE JETT,
A.B., KΣ
REEDVILLE, VA.
Franklin Literary Society

Four years since, a red-headed freshman hit Ashland in a whirlwind, and carried everything before him. His identity need not be dwelt upon. Clarence is a man of brains, and his phenomenal career has been the very essence of success. A "twister" from his palmy freshman days until the dignity of a senior made its impress upon him. History and Political Science have fallen before this intellect like chaff before the wind. Consider the aforesaid Sorrell-top. He toils not, neither does he spin. Yet I say unto thee that Dr. Day in all his erudition knows not concerning Haemurabi and Assurbanipal as much as this worthy son of Virginia.

Our subject has always held very modern views upon the perplexing problems of hazing, and many an unsophisticated freshman has made ample cause to regret his attitude.

As to the social side of his nature, he is the kind of fellow whom you like to know, and whose society you take pleasure in seeking. A loyal friend and true companion, he is possessed of a certain attractiveness which enamours him to all he meets.

If his success in the practice of law is to be measured by the attainments of his college course, we can but predict for him much of the best that this world has to offer.

SAMUEL GRAHAM KELLEY,
A.B.; X B Φ
BRODNAX, VA.

Franklin Literary Society

Honors: Treasurer Sophomore
Class, 1915-16; Treasurer Frank Hall,
1916-17; Instructor in Physics, 1916-
17; Monitor Board, 1916-17.

This youthful scion of Brunswick came to Ashland three years ago with a reputation for scholarly attainment. Kelley's native gifts are numerous, but he has merited particular distinction by his brilliancy in the classroom. His success here rests in a peculiar power to concentrate his entire attention on the particular subject in hand. Those of us who are less endowed wonder at his ability to excel in his classes and at the same time to read more books than probably any other student in college. Having an inclination toward Mathematics and Physics, he has always been a leader in these classes, and his proficiency is indicated by his appointment to the Instructorship in Physics this year. To say that this one "bones" would be an erroneous accusation; he simply has the art of extracting the substance from the printed page and making it his own. Though he gets his degree in three years, he has found ample time for outside work; and though he is no solicitor for the honors on the campus, he has held some important positions in student activities, as a glance above will inform you. Never making a display of his erudition, he wears his learning, probably after the suggestion of Chesterfield, as a watch, and when asked the time he will readily tell you; but never does he proclaim the hour promiscuously. The dictum that "silence is golden" is full of meaning for him; and they reap the gold of this silence who are privileged to know him intimately as a friend, for they find the unique charm and vivacity of wit in his conversation especially delightful. It is in these carefree moments spent together that we really come to know a man, and the genial nature of this diminutive has left with us an impression of frankness and sincerity which we shall ever cherish as a precious memory.

Samuel does not regard his education here as an end in itself, but he intends to become an electrical engineer. If the accomplishments of the past are any indication of what the future holds in store, nothing but success can await one whose every effort here has been characterized by exalted intellectual power, and so Randolph-Macon presents to the world with pride her son of ability, determination and character.—S. G. Kelly.

RICHARD BROOKE LAWSON,
A.B.; K A T
UPPERVILLE, VA.

Franklin Literary Society

Honors: Freshman Baseball Team 1913-14; Secretary Sophomore Class 1914-15; Captain Sophomore Baseball Team 1914-15; B.L.A.K.I.; Secretary Monitor Board 1915-16; Baseball Squad, 1915-16; Chief-Marshall Commencement Exercises, 1915-16; Football Squad 1916-17.

Behold a man. This is enough to say of anyone but we attempt to add to a true friend's virtues. When the flagman on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad called out Ashland four years ago "Dick Lawson alighted from the train and this same man has been conspicuous in Ashland ever since. By his pleasing disposition and attractive personality he immediately ingratiated himself into the confidence of the college. He has the wonderful accomplishment of making friends and he is blessed with many in this little town. The confidence and friendship of the student body was shown at the beginning of his third year when he was elected a member of the Monitor Board.

As chief-marshall of the finals in 1916 he displayed an ability as a financier and manager and aided in bringing the occasion to a most pleasant and enjoyable end.

With an estimable determination when he once sets his mind on anything he is not to be deterred from his purpose and he has this determination permeating his whole life.

His ever present wit demands an admiration in all gatherings where the fluent discussions in hot air are so voluble and we fellows who are less favored and happened to be concealed behind the door when that great dispenser of our cherished talents was concerned with distribution of wit, have the utmost respect for him.

But his one great characteristic is his affinity for the fair sex. These fair creatures under the alluring and fascinating glance of his soft eyes are forced to yield to his enchantment. They inevitably fall under his spell as if struck by an inexpressible spirit and are only brought back to earth again by the realization of the insusceptibility of his character to sentimentality.

We are sure that with the many and diverse attainments of our friend, he will be heard from in the busy turmoil of life and in expectation of an enviable career we await his future.

GEORGE RUSSELL MALONEY,
A.B.; Φ K Σ
CULLEN, VA.

Franklin Literary Society

Honors: Historian Freshman Class, 1913-14; Treasurer Sophomore Class, 1914-15; Secretary Frank Hall, 1914-15; Treasurer Frank Hall, 1915-16; Board of Publications, 1915-16; Monitor Board, 1915-16; Treasurer Junior Class, 1915-16; Assistant Manager Football Team, 1915-16; Assistant Manager Yellow Jacket Weekly, 1915-16; Manager Football Team, 1916-17; Secretary Monitor Board, 1916-17; Historian Senior Class, 1916-17.

Ladies and Gentlemen, behold this princely knight from Charlotte County,—George Russell Maloney, alias "Pat" et cetera. Good manners and considerateness constitute his first name, good looks his middle name, and a thorough gentleman, in all the term implies, is his last.

With the falling of the autumn leaves upon the campus of historic Randolph-Macon in the fall of 1913, came this personage whom the Fates decreed should dwell in our midst for four long, short years. From the very beginning of his college career, he manifested a genuineness of purpose, and as a reward for his arduous labors he will receive the much coveted A.B. this commencement. In class work, he has proven himself to be a "twister," and the way he has "curled up" the "profs." in Chemistry and Biology is relentlessly unmerciful.

Apart from this routine work, however, it was "Pat's" managerial ability that piloted the football ship of the Randolph-Macon fleet to such pecuniary success last fall that Euclid would have been thrown on the perplexing sea of distress at the mathematical genius of this young phenom.

(By way of parenthesis, let it be said that some little lass certainly has "Pat" hooked judging from the frequency with which he meets "80".)

It has not been determined definitely yet as to what course George will pursue in life, but one thing is certain, and that is he will be a service to humanity and win the friendship, esteem, and confidence of his fellow men. His Alma Mater hates to give him up.

LITTLETON HOLLAND MEARS,
A.B., K.A.
EASTVILLE, VA.

Franklin Literary Society

Honors: Secretary Frank Hall 1915-16; Yellow Jacket Staff 1916-17.

"O, consistency, thou art a jewel." In the smelting pot of nature has this priceless jewel taken form in the person of Littleton H. Mears, better known to us as Lit. A man the consistency of whom is such a vital part of his make-up, so obvious to others, so oblivious to himself, that though he is not personally known to but a favored few, still his reputation precedes him and makes him respected.

Lit entered college in the fall of '13 and for two years lived in town where he was intimate with no one save his brother. But in these two years he established his record as one of the best students in college and his reputation has flourished in the succeeding years. In the capacity of his own stenographer he has eclipsed all others in his concise and explicit notes with which very few men in college are not familiar.

He came to college for the sole purpose of obtaining an education and this has been his ever-dominating purpose. And in this phase of college life has he been the personification of consistency.

Yet, Lit is not only a student. Among his friends he is, in the common college parlance a "regular fellow," but always stands out the maxim "work before pleasure." Suddenly as if appeared a thunderbolt out of a clear sky Lit, this year, made his debut into society but not to the detriment of his education. His striking personality has made him popular in Ashland and those of the fair sex who are favored with knowing him are ever anxious to laud his amiable character.

Appreciating to the fullest extent that hard work will always be rewarded we expect Lit to become a prominent lawyer, the path in which he contemplates expending his labors. With such qualifications as he possesses and with his indomitable determination posterity should have much in store for such consistency.

JAMES EDWARD MOYLER, JR.

A.B.; Φ K Σ; Σ Y

O.K.E.E.Y.

FRANKLIN, VA.

Franklin Literary Society

Honors: Elected to Frank Hall Public Debate, 1913-14; Treasurer Tennis Club, 1913-14; Frank Hall Commencement Orator, 1914; Board of Publications, 1914-15; Glee Club, 1913-14-15-17; Editorial Staff Randolph-Macon Monthly, 1914-15; Assistant Business Manager Randolph-Macon Monthly, 1914-15; Yellow Jacket Staff, 1914-15-16-17; Elected Editor-in-Chief Yellow Jacket (resigned) 1914-15; Assistant Manager Football Team, 1914-15; Vice-President Tennis Club, 1915-17; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 1916-17; President Frank Hall, 1916-17; Yellow Jacket Weekly Staff, 1916-17; Instructor in English, 1916-17; Senior Class Poet, 1916-17; Sutherland Oratorical Contestant, 1916-17.

It is only necessary to look once at this Senior to conclude that he is handsome. Coupled with the winning grace of a conversationalist, and you may take our word for it, Edward has proven a success wherever wit and merit run their happy courses. But it is not primarily in this direction that Moyler has won popularity. Somewhat of a speaker, he has been one of the old Frank Hall leaders and many have been the nights that his voice has been heard in disputation with those members whose lesser foresight fathered policies unpractical and unpatriotic. He is, too, counted among the litterati, that race of men whose visions and whose dreams have made ideals live. As an assistant in the college English department his reputation as a judge of good verse and of good composition has grown. Absence from college a year (teaching at Rocky Mount in Virginia) did not deprive him of any of his college spirit; for he came back to us more intensely patriotic than ever. And who does not love to shout, "Hello 'Diggins'!" Or who does not love to hear his melodious voice when the fellows are singing the old songs at twilight! Sing! That is his motto. Our imaginations picture him singing all through life, even when the shadows are falling, for he has the wondrous happy faculty of being happy and of making others glad. Surely one of so pleasing a personality has a place in the world, and right well do we believe that Moyler will fill it.

KENNETH McNEAL, A.B.: Σ Φ Σ
REEDVILLE, VA.
Franklin Literary Society
Honors: B.L.A.K.I.

Four years of college life and another youngster has flourished into a man. The most impressive years of another young man's life have been filled with the influences and impressed with the ineradicable ideals of the old college at Ashland. As the world weaves her wondrous web around us and enfolds us in her manifold meshes may we all be thrown at one time or another into a place where we may fall under the influence of and know more intimately Kenneth McNeal. For otherwise, being by nature of an unassuming disposition he will not mean as much to us as he really can. Intimate association alone can give us the impressive influence of the real man in him.

The four years at Randolph-Macon have by no means been idly loitered away for there are few more consistent or harder students than "Mac." Tho he is a hard student it is not from necessity but from choice, for more alert minds are given only to the most rare of geniuses. With it all "Mac" is a good fellow and a good sport and more than once his ambitions have led him into the realms of the feminine. A golden heart adorns the throbbing breast of some fortunate maiden in Virginia and you can rest assured that she is pretty, as pretty goes in the land of beautiful women, for Mac is a devil with the ladies.

1921—Another doctor has graduated who promises to make his mark in the world as many other Randolph-Macon men have. We look to the future and see Doctor McNeal, prominent in his profession and ministering to the sick and needy of his countrymen. We feel sure of his success in more ways than one, as a student, a doctor, an American citizen, and as a man. So with pleasant memories of our past association and with hopes of your future success joined with our closer friendship we say, "Goodbye, good luck, God bless you."

DOUGLAS COOK NEWMAN, A.B.

Φ Κ Σ; Χ Β Φ

WOODSTOCK, VA.

Franklin Literary Society

Honors: President Tennis Club
1915-16; Business Manager Yellow
Jacket Weekly 1916-17; Tennis Team
1916-17; B.L.A.K.I.

To make an accurate and worthy analysis of a character in a sketch limited approximately to two hundred and eighty words, is a genuine task for the most excellent philosopher. Particularly does this truth apply in this instance, for the subject of this sketch is a man whose character is so strikingly interwoven with qualities both attractive and able that we find it extremely difficult to separate one from the other. In the effect that his presence produces one is likely to be conscious of the effect only. But one does not talk with Douglas Cook Newman more than once before knowing that Booney possesses a willing, sympathetic, whole-hearted attitude that most men possess only after years of training and experience. His devotion to the little God and to the wonders of his native valley stamp him as a disciple of Beauty. In this wise we see in him the living poet, but Booney lives the part unaware and unobtrusively. A thoughtful courtesy and a charming manner, are two happy qualities that seem to be a part of his natural self; couple these with an ability which has carried him to the honored completion of his college work and the ambition to train himself for the work of a man and we believe you will agree that our subject is in the right process of making of himself one whose place in and whose usefulness to society will be of great value. His college work inside the class room and his active co-operation in student affairs justify us certainly in saying that his hopes for a happy and a worthy place in the society of his generation ought to be bright and prophetic. Just as he has been exemplary in right living and in a right attitude here in college, in the same capacity are we expecting him to serve in the country's citizenship of tomorrow.

RAYMOND BRUCE OWENS, A.B.

FRONT ROYAL, VA.

Washington Literary Society

Honors: Censor Wash Hall, 1914-15; Secretary, Censor and Vice-President Wash Hall, 1915-16; Marshal Wash Hall Public Debate 1915-16; Treasurer Board of Publications, 1916-17; Yellow Jacket Weekly Staff, 1916-17; Secretary and Treasurer Front Royal Club, 1916-17; President Wash Hall, 1916-17; Yellow Jacket Staff, 1916-17.

If it is true that "only he has a great tomorrow who has back of him a multitude of great yesterdays" Raymond Owens need have no hesitancy in contemplating his future. The beginning of his great yesterdays does not coincide with his advent into this institution of learning but began about twenty-three years ago and they have since been steadily increasing. At Front Royal Academy he led in his classes once, and came second twice, so his subsequent high record here at college is not luck, but it comes as a fitting sequel to that former high standing.

Raymond does not belong in the category of those whose motto is "if studies interfere with college activities, drop the studies," his motto however is exactly the reverse. No college honor, no matter how brilliant, can blind him to the path of duty, and he is ever conscious of the reason why he is here at school and always pushes on to arrive at the desired goal.

Many times Owens' meritorious literary propensities have won for him offices of responsibility and honor in Washington Hall. During the past four winters he has been elected secretary of that inspiring assembly and has at various times been elected censor, critic and vice-president. He has also held the office of treasurer of the Board of Publications. His argumentative proclivities have won him several nominations as a inter-collegiate preliminary debater, but, owing to the pressure of class work and other activities he has been compelled to decline such honors.

Raymond contemplates the study of law. Though the writer would not be so presumptuous as to predict that Owens' name will ever rank with Blackstone or Webster, he does feel assured that he may safely invade the magic realm of prophecy to predict that his future labors, as his past, will be crowned with marked success and his life and accomplishments will stand as a lasting monument to Randolph-Macon, his Alma Mater.

JAMES MANNING POTTS,

A.B., K.A., T.K.A.

RICHMOND, VA.

Franklin Literary Society

Honors: Frank Hall Public Debater, 1913-14; Sec'y Frank Hall, 1915; President Frank Hall, 1916; Intercollegiate Debate Council, 1915-16; William and Mary College Preliminary Debate, 1915-16; William and Mary College Debate, 1915-16; Yellow Jacket Staff, 1915-16; Frank Hall Debater's Medal, 1915-16; Sutherland Medal for Oratory, 1916; Editor-in-Chief of Yellow Jacket, 1916-17; President Intercollegiate Debate Council, 1916-17; Board of Publications, 1916-17; President of Frank Hall Declamation Contest, 1917; President Richmond College-William and Mary Debate, 1916-17; Wake Forest College Debate Preliminary, 1916-17 (resigned); State Oratorical Preliminary, 1916-17 (resigned).

One of the first things this young man did upon his arrival on the historic campus of Randolph-Macon was to join Frank Hall. As to the wisdom of that choice there are conflicting opinions; or in the words of the Good Book, "Some say one thing, some another." Be that as it may, Potts has certainly proven himself a loyal and worthy member. He has taken several medals in Hall; he has represented his society in the annual Oratorical Contest; and he has successfully represented his college in intercollegiate debate. He can be compared very favorably with the brightest luminaries visible in the heavens on a cloudy night. However, we are proud to say that he is one of us.

And witness his literary, or executive, ability when he was elected Editor-in-Chief of the Yellow Jacket Annual for this session. Here is the Chief of this publication, and its success is due, in no small measure, to his untiring efforts. What he has not done himself for the Annual, he has supervised attentively and much honor justly belongs to him.

In classes and athletics, Potts also has his place. In the former, he is considered a "twister," for he is undaunted by the trials imposed by the learned doctors. In athletics he is a loyal rooter. He stays back of the team in victory or defeat, and thereby shows the old Randolph-Macon spirit.

Manning came to school with five talents, and lo, he is leaving with ten. A man who improves his opportunities as he does, need not be afraid of making his mark in the world. We are sorry to lose him, but are sure he will bring glory and honor both to himself and to his Alma Mater.

GEORGE SPOTTSWOOD REAMEY,

A.B.; ΣT

DANVILLE, VA.

Washington Literary Society

Honors: Secretary of Wash Hall, 1914-15-16-17; Yellow Jacket Weekly Staff, 1915-16-17; Richmond College Debate, 1915-16; Historian of Sophomore Class, 1915-16; State Treasurer of Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, 1915-16-17; Yellow Jacket Staff, 1916-17; President of the Board of Publications, 1916-17; Secretary Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 1916-17; William and Mary Debate, 1916-17; Treasurer of Wash Hall, 1916-17; President Wash Hall, 1916-17.

The countenance which you see turned on you is a fac-simile of George S. Reamey. Note the gentle blending of seriousness and humor in his lineaments. In physical stature George is of Lilliputian type; in mental proportions he is Herculean. These facts probably account for his divergent cognomens, "Midget" and "Cicero."

During his stay here George has enjoyed the honors which come as the reward of true merit. Wash Hall has found in him a zealous compatriot, and he has honorably served the Society in practically every capacity. On numerous occasions has his power as a speaker been felt, and he has ably represented the College in intercollegiate debate. When the Randolph-Macon Monthly was metamorphosed into the Yellow Jacket Weekly he was an advocate of the transition, and since then he has fostered the latter with untiring energy. In acknowledgment of his interest in, and appreciation of things literary, he was elected President of the Board of Publications this year.

However, it is not only as a student and promotor of the college welfare, but also as a comrade and associate that we shall remember him. When occasion demands it, there is not a merrier fellow in college than this syncopated form of the genus homo. Humor is native to him. He laughs at others' jokes and then tells a better one. He loves friendship, and those who know him best know what a fine type of the master passion he exhibits.

There is always a great work for a great man. Reamey purposes to cast his talents in distant China as a missionary. This institution has turned out few young men of more promise than this one, and we believe if the veil were lifted from the future his works would testify to his worth.

JOHN ALEXANDER RORER,
A.B.; Σ Φ Σ; Γ
LYNCHBURG, VA.

Franklin Literary Society

Honors: Public Debate, 1913-14; Improvement in Debate Medal, 1913-14; Intercollegiate Debate Preliminary, 1914-15-16; Y. M. C. A. Treas., 1914-15; President Richmond College Debate 1914-15; President Sophomore Class, 1914-15; Marshal at Commencement, 1915; Randolph-Macon Monthly Staff, 1914-15; President I. P. A.; Debate Council, 1915-16; State Oratorical Preliminary, 1915-16; Business Manager of Yellow Jacket, 1915-16; Frank Hall Orator's Medal, 1915-16; President Frank Hall, 1917; Yellow Jacket Weekly Staff, 1916-17; Basketball Second Team, 1913-14, 1916-17; President Board of Monitors, 1916-17; Yellow Jacket Staff, 1916-17; Playwright Senior Class 1916-17; Valedictorian Senior Class, 1916-17.

From the mountainous confines of our historic commonwealth, there strayed into this famous seat of learning, about four years since, one John Alexander Rorer, better known by the familiar appellation Alex. He entered Randolph-Macon for the ostensible purpose of acquiring an A.B., and in the process has received numerous honors, which are a credit to the man and a recognition of genius. Alex is one of those fortunate individuals, good fellows, for whom distinction lurks, and he can not escape its wiles no matter where he turns.

Although eminent in all lines of college activity, "Al" is essentially a literateur, and in these channels his fame has been wondrous and far reaching. During his palmy freshman days, he represented Frank Hall on Public Debate, and this capacity gained such an overwhelming victory that he was awarded the Medal for Improvement in Debate. He has served his Alma Mater as Business Manager of the Yellow Jacket, and has graced the Editorial Staff of the Weekly and the Editorial Staff of the Yellow Jacket. He has been of foremost importance in furthering Y. M. C. A. institutions, and the phenomenal success of that organization is due largely to his enterprise and perseverance.

In addition to the possession of the above named characteristics, Alex is a calicoist of note, always preferring the entrancing charms of the fairer sex to the unattractive conversation of his more unfortunate fellows.

Affable, sympathetic, of pleasing mien and charming personality, Alex readily cultivates friendships wherever he wends his way. He is the man, the memory of whom will linger long after the bonds of personal contact have been severed.

HARRIS MAGRUDER WATERS.

A.B.; X B Φ; Γ

CAMBRIA, VA.

Washington Literary Society

Honors: Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 1914-15-16-17; Basketball Team, 1915-16-17; Monitor Board, 1915-16; Instructor in Mathematics, 1915-16; President Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, 1915-16; Football Team, 1916-17; Captain and Manager Basketball Team, 1916-17; Board of Publications, 1916-17; Athletic Board, 1916-17; Yellow Jacket Staff, 1916-17; President Wash Hall; Treasurer Senior Class.

(Note:—This sketch is published exactly as written by a Japanese student.)

All-rounded men are indeed a scarcity in this day and age of specializing, but when one is found he is in demand. When the coach needed a man for "half" he picked out just such a man. When the lettered man in Basketball selected a captain, manager and forward he chose the same man. The professor in Mathematics needed an assistant instructor, his choice was none the others. The Y. M. C. A. added him to the Cabinet. "Old Wash Hall" said "Amen" and made him President. The Board of Publication and Athletic Board could not afford not to have such a man as member of their associations, and so the tale might go on into infinite, the positions were filled and services rendered in lines of college activities. We pause for lack of words.

He was born in Osaka, the next to the largest city in Japan, but homes nowhere in particular (he is a Methodist preacher's son, poor fellow). While he was at Randolph-Macon, he never has forgotten the other side of the continent where in that beautiful state of West a Ojosan (a magic word) is waiting for him.

He has a peculiar business, drilling holes in the craniums of Cannibals and stuffing them with condensed civilization. This prodigy is none other than Harris M. Waters.

More would be superfluous. "All-round" is the only term to be applied to his abilities, generous, noble life and may give an idea of what his friendship means to others.

It is with a sense of great loss that our college sees such a man pass from among us, but so far as his study is concerned even professors can stop him from going away from here with justice. So our prayer is "May his tribe be increased among us."

EDWARD STAUNTON WEST,
A.B.; X B Φ
CASCADE, VA.

Washington Literary Society

Honors: Secretary Wash Hall, 1914-15; Class Basketball Team, 1914-15; instructor in Chemistry, 1915-16-17.

As old "Jonnie" Woodin would say, "My elongated friend," hails from the land where milk and "moonshine" flow freely. That is, he is from Cascade, Va. Physically he is long, tall, and slender, and is so rough that he even wears his hair "Princeton ruff" to be consistent. Yet in spite of the fact that he comes from the land where good old liquor is still made on the sly, he never touches it himself. In fact, he has decided to devote his life to ministering to the needs, both of body and spirit, of the natives of the "Dark Continent." In brief, he is to be a medical missionary. At present, his most favored "dopes" are creosote and "door-bell" solutions. If they do not cure they are guaranteed to kill. Let us hope he improves his stock in the near future.

Eddie is a "shark" in his classes, and a real student. He is consistent in his work through the year and therefore he does not need to cram for examinations. So his method of work in that respect is ideal. His grades in Chemistry I, II, and III, fully evidence his thoroughness, not to mention Biology I and II, Math I and II, et cetera ad infinitum.

Everyone is peculiar, and this specimen of the genius homo is no exception. In fact, many people do not understand him, and thus lose a great deal by not knowing him better. One of the most marked characteristics of his nature is his pronounced tendency to take walks in the direction of Mt. Hermon, S. S. But owing to the distance he is frequently compelled to rest by the wayside.

If we may look into the future, we see him doing vast good in that section of the globe which he has chosen as the field of his endeavor. May his every endeavor be crowned with rich success.

History of the Class of Nineteen Seventeen

It becomes necessary at times in the course of human events to stop and give a history of the past. It was just four years ago that the history of the class of 1917 began. When we entered the wall of Randolph-Macon in the fall of 1913, little did we dream of the rich experiences and rare events which these years had in store for us, nor did we think that they would roll by so rapidly as they really have. The embarrassment which we were compelled to undergo at that time caused us to conclude that the way of the "Fish" is hard. Still beneath our outward appearances there was determination without which success can never be attained. We remember distinctly the first days of our college life, and then, the goal of our ambition seemed far distant, but our work together has not been long.

It would be a very difficult task to relate in so short a space a record of the victories won and the worthy achievements wrought, not only by the class as a whole, but by the individual members as well. We dare say, however, that our record is well worthy of comparison with that of any other class that has preceded us.

With our return to college the second year our ranks were somewhat depleted by the absence of a goodly number of our men, who unavoidably failed to return. However, since this time very few of our number have left us. We labored together in such a way as we thought best not only for our own good, but for the good of our Alma Mater. Some of our men worked hard on the athletic field, some busied themselves with intercollegiate debates, while all exerted their efforts and influence in some phase of college life.

As time passed by we began to realize more and more that college is the place in which we shape our destinies, consequently we did not fail to apply ourselves more vigorously upon college life. Our second year in college passed rapidly, and when the pleasant days of commencement came we felt that we had accomplished something that was worth while.

When college opened the next autumn we returned with the eagerness characteristic of those who are about to enter upon their junior year at college. It was now more than ever before that we had the welfare of the student body at heart. We put forth every effort to foil any action that might tend to molest the even tenor of college life. We not only maintained our high standards of the past, but we steadily advanced along the line of general development.

In hall work we were good. Our class was ably represented in intercollegiate debates, oratorical contests, and the like, as well as in regular meetings of the literary societies. The offices held and the honors won by the class in these departments of college life are too numerous to relate. This, of course, does not mean that the class had not been good in literary work before, but our ability was now manifesting itself in a more mature form.

In athletics we were "all right" as in years before. With four men on the football team we did our share in heaping up a score of 26 to 0 against Hampden-Sydney.

On September 14th, 1916, we returned to college for the fourth and last time. We were glad to be here again, and by this time the campus was so familiar that it seemed like home itself. We realized now more fully than ever before that there are no days like the good old college days, and, when they are gone, we shall be placed out in the world to be buffeted back and forth by the breakers of fortune. It is here that we develop that manhood, that high sense of honor, that culture and refinement which will always predominate our characters, and with these attributes we need not fear for the welfare of our classmates, when they set sail on the tempestuous sea of life.

As we come to the end of our college career we know that we have not done as much for our Alma Mater as we should, but we feel assured that we have no cause to be ashamed of our record. If the class of 1917 always seeks to accomplish its aims with the same steady determination that has characterized its course at Randolph-Macon the Sun of Fortune will always shine upon it.

—G. R. MALONEY, Historian.

JUNIOR

Junior Class

OFFICERS

Linnwood Butterworth	President
Wallace B. Bowman.....	Vice-President
Harvey A. Neville.....	Treasurer
Thomas D. Christian.....	Secretary
Richard S. Leftwich.....	Historian

Motto: Vincit omnia veritas

Colors: White and Gold

Flower: White Rose

MEMBERS

A. C. Blackwell	C. H. Jenkins	G. W. Riddick
W. B. Bowman	R. Jenkins	W. A. Scarborough
L. Butterworth	R. S. Leftwich	S. H. Short
T. D. Christian	H. S. Libis	J. H. Shumate
T. L. Coe	L. C. Mears	W. F. Shyrock
M. A. Cogbill	J. B. Moorman	E. W. Sims
R. E. Galloway	A. P. Morton	L. L. Smith
P. G. Gilbert	C. W. Moss	E. H. Swift
J. H. Harper	H. A. Neville	G. B. West
R. M. Hiner	J. W. Reynolds	R. D. Young

Juniors

A. C. Blackwell

W. B. Bowman

L. Butterworth

ASHBY CARLYLE BLACKWELL

McKenney, Virginia

WALLACE BRUCE BOWMAN

Petersburg, Virginia

LINNWOOD BUTTERWORTH

DeWitt, Virginia

Blackwell

Bowman

Butterworth

Juniors

T. D. Christian

T. L. Coe

M. A. Cogbill

THOMAS DAVIS CHRISTIAN, JR.
 Lynchburg, Virginia

THEODORE LAWRENCE COE
 East Sandwich, Massachusetts

MARCUS AURELIUS COGBILL
 Chesterfield, Virginia

Christian

Coe

Cogbill

Juniors

R. E. Galloway

P. G. Guilbert

J. H. Harper

RALPH EUGENE GALLOWAY

Berryville, Virginia

PERCY GRAY GUILBERT

Ashland, Virginia

JOSEPH HEBARD HARPER

Onley, Virginia

Galloway

Guilbert

Harper

Juniors

R. M. Hiner

C. H. Jenkins

R. Jenkins

RALPH McCLUNG HINER

Franklin, West Virginia

CALVERT HUNTER JENKINS

Ashland, Virginia

ROSEWELL JINKINS

Ashland, Virginia

Hiner

Jenkins

Jenkins

Juniors

R. S. Leftwich

H. S. Libis

L. C. Mears, Jr.

RICHARD SALE LEFTWICH

Cumberland, Virginia

HAROLD SAMPLE LIBIS

Chicago, Illinois

LEONARD CECIL MEARS, JR.

Keller, Virginia

Leftwich

Libis

Mears

Juniors

J. B. Moorman

A. P. Morton

C. W. Moss

JAMES BOWLING MOORMAN

Lawyers, Virginia

ARTHUR PRICE MORTON

Graham, Virginia

CHARLES WESLEY MOSS

Tucker's Hill, Virginia

Moorman

Morton

Moss

Juniors

H. A. Neville

G. W. Riddick

W. A. Scarborough

HARVEY ALEXANDER NEVILLE

Milwood, Virginia

GEORGE WALTON RIDDICK

Capron, Virginia

WILLIAM ACREE SCARBOROUGH

Carson, Virginia

Neville

Riddick

Scarborough

Juniors

S. H. Short

W. F. Shryock

J. H. Shumate

SHELTON HARDAWAY SHORT

Lawrenceville, Virginia

WILMER FINKBINE SHRYOCK

Winchester, Virginia

JAMES HENRY SHUMATE

Farmville, Virginia

Short

Shryock

Shumate

Juniors

E. W. Simms

L. L. Smith

E. H. Swift

EDGAR WALKER SIMMS

Stanardsville, Virginia

LESTER LEE SMITH

Susan, Virginia

ERNEST HEWWOOD SWIFT

Chase City, Virginia

Simms

Smith

Swift

Juniors

G. B. West

W. A. Whitesell

R. D. Young

GEORGE BEVERLY WEST

Trevillians, Virginia

WILLARD ALEXANDER WHITESELL

Keezleton, Virginia

ROSLYN DIEHL YOUNG

Petersburg, Virginia

West

Whitesell

Young

History Of The Class Of 1918

Progress is always an evolution, and its manifestation in human life is an epitome of the history of civilization.

When in retrospection we remember ourselves in the role of the fresh and ignorant "fish" of 1914-15 we can almost imagine those dead selves of ours reincarnated in the frisking, irrepressible young freshmen whom it is our sad and painful duty as juniors to bring up in the way they should go. Working on the analogy of the social life at this great institution, we put forward as our own opinion that man is a product of a piscatorial evolution.

Through fire and water, by many a hard contest and harder victory, "à la sueur de ton visage," as the French have, we have become the chosen and hope at last to win the prize. We hope that in some measure at least has come to us an understanding of the glory that was of Greece, and the grandeur that was of Rome.

When we come to a record of the achievements of this class, we find at the outset that neither time nor space will permit us to touch upon them even with the most cursory hand. Their name is legion. In this brief legacy to those who shall come after us, we record only that no better class has ever claimed Randolph-Macon for her Alma Mater. We have representatives in every walk and department of life here at college. As freshmen our ranks ably recruited the sadly depleted varsity teams, and the recruits of the last two years have been drawn from our scrubs of the first year. As students we have been equally successful. We have two men on the "Little Faculty," and the Junior Murray Medal has twice been won by members of our class.

With this brief review we stop, "we have accomplished." You, our fellow students, know and are proud of our honors, even as we know and are proud of yours. So here's to the best class, the Junior Class of 1917 at good, old R. M. C.

—R. S. LEFTWICH.

Sophomore Class

OFFICERS

Morris L. Lancaster.....	President
William E. Hauss.....	Vice-President
Harold N. Smith.....	Secretary
W. W. Morse.....	Treasurer
Samuel S. Greene.....	Historian

Motto: Palma non sine labore

Flower: Johnny-jump-up

Colors: Yellow and Red

MEMBERS

A. W. Ainsworth	M. F. Draper	W. W. McIntire
J. F. Bain	W. L. Dunn	W. W. Morse
W. J. Barham	L. D. Fringer	N. A. Pattillo
Herbert Barnes	J. Y. Gayle	J. U. Reardon
C. L. Beard	S. S. Greene	C. A. Rice
Lyn Bond	C. W. Harris	N. C. Rice
R. B. Bridgforth	S. P. Hatcher	W. J. Richardson
P. R. Burch	W. E. Hauss	L. L. Sawyer
W. M. Carr	H. F. Herndon	G. E. Smith
L. B. Carwile	J. H. Hobbs	H. N. Smith
R. B. Claggett	William Irby	P. W. Smith
Joe Coates	M. L. Lancaster	R. H. Stephenson
Conway Coe	J. D. Lawson	W. E. Thomas
H. L. Coffman	W. A. Manson	W. W. Vicar
J. W. Copley	H. C. Marsh	D. F. Walton
R. L. Crrekmur	Carroll Matthews	T. N. Woodfin
T. C. Davis	W. J. Mays	G. V. Wray

History Of The Class Of 1919

Of the seventy-odd youthful aspirants, who, as Freshmen, entered the classic halls of Randolph-Macon in the autumn of 1915, nearly fifty returned twelve months later to resume the head-to-head encounter with the faculty, and the battle for recognition in the various branches of college activity.

Under the title and dignity of Sophomores, our ranks, though depleted in numbers, were augmented in influence. Consequently, we have been able to demonstrate to even the most critical, that the flashes of brilliance we displayed in every department of college work during the days of our Freshhood were possessed of real merit and stability. We are proud to say that this session has seen us win places in the very forefront of every phase of collegiate endeavor.

Among us are nine men who successfully aspired to represent the college on the football field. Of this number three were awarded monograms, emblematic of regulars on a gridiron eleven in which the whole school feels a just pride.

The basketball team likewise was strengthened by the addition of several sophomores, of whom one became a mainstay, and a valuable factor in the success of the quint.

In the spring when the coach called for baseball volunteers, we responded with a goodly quota. Sophomores, who last spring favorably impressed baseball critics, came up to expectations this spring and grappled with worthy competition for retention on the varsity. That not a few of them won positions is a natural sequence to their showing during the 1916 training season.

Nor have the distinctions of our class been confined entirely to athletics. We are proud of the fact that two of our members represented the college in the Wake Forest Debate, and that others admirably served the literary societies in almost every capacity.

The class room, too, has felt the presence of the second year contingent. A retrospective glance at the accomplishments of the members of our tribe evidences some real material, and leads to the belief that every station of life will feel the influence of our personnel, once we have taken our respective places among them as men of affairs.

To each and every one, irrespective of calling, we confidently trust that unmeasured and merited success and happiness may come.

S. S. GREENE, Historian.

The Class Of 1920

OFFICERS

President.....	H. I. Bowman
Vice-President.....	N. A. Hall
Secretary.....	T. A. Smoot, Jr.
Treasurer.....	J. E. Thomas
Historian.....	W. L. Oliver

MEMBERS

Arthur, J. W.	Hawk, J. M.	Ridenour, M.
Barksdale, W. A.	Hopkins, E. R.	Robinson, C. B.
Bland, B. B.	Howison, J. F., Jr.	Rosenberger, G.
Birdsong, I. H.	Hunt, A. L., Jr.	Russell, W. H., Jr.
Bowman, H. I.	Jenkins, V. V.	Sarver, C. E.
Brent, W. L.	Kibler, J. L.	Saunders, R. C.
Brewer, A. E.	Knox, J.	Sayre, J. W.
Brown, E. H.	Lack, C. S., Jr.	Scott, H. D., Jr.
Cardwell, R. H.	Lack, E. J.	Scott, J. J., Jr.
Clark, J. M.	Marshal, G. M.	Shryock, F. A.
Cole, F. N.	Martin, R.	Shryock, P. F.
Cunningham, W. K.	Maxey, S. L.	Simpson, T. N.
Dickey, J. C.	Mills, J. W.	Smoot, T. A., Jr.
Dunton, W. L.	Meyberg, L. O.	Terrell, K.
Deutsch, F. A.	Mitchell, T. H., Jr.	Thomas, J. E.
Earp, C. H.	Morris, C. V.	Turner, W. B.
Euston, W. H.	Moseley, E. L.	Updike, G. Z.
Garland, R. E.	Moseley, W. S.	Waller, R. O.
Gawthrop, D. H.	Norman, J. R.	Waters, G. L.
Gills, H. A.	Oliver, W. L.	Watkins, E. W.
Gravely, H.	Parker, E. B.	Webb, W. S.
Gray, S. T.	Potts, R. H., Jr.	White, H. L.
Griffin, R. H.	Potts, T. N., Jr.	Wightman, W. A.
Gum, W. C.	Randolph, E. W.	Williams, C. F.
Hall, N. A.	Richardson, C.	Williams, M. D.

Freshman History

Now that the class of 1920 has finished its first year, it can say with the Apostle Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course."

We entered R. M. C. last fall, an ignorant, unsophisticated bunch of Freshmen, blissfully unaware of our shortcomings until we were reminded of them by disdainful upper classmen. We hailed from high schools and academies, where we had been looked up to as grave, dignified seniors, but illusions of this kind were soon dispelled by our environment and we were relegated to our proper places in the ranks.

But why linger on memories of unpleasant disillusionment, for it is no secret that we have proved our worth in every field of college activity. In football two freshmen made their letters and several others made the squad—in basketball we furnished two men for the first team and others for the scrubs; in baseball we were no less fortunate and our representatives have clinched and double-riveted some of the most difficult positions on the team. In literary work we had representatives on both local and intercollegiate debates; in scholarship we have also won high honors, although some among our number have been consistent observers of the maxim, "never let your studies interfere with your college work." Among these latter are those mental gymnasts who care more for dancing than duty, more for "calico" than curriculum. Others, more studious than their fellows, have learned what the task of the Middle Ages was, and what difference there is between "pleonasm" and "tautology."

Among other things, we acquired a considerable addition to our vocabularies since our advent into college. We have learned "shag" means "let the other fellow do the work," that the salutation "How you was?" and the reply, "I ain't so hot," are forms of greeting peculiar to college students; and that the maxim, "never buy when you can borrow," has many devotees among our friends.

We have learned many things in college our first year, but that thing which will be of greatest value to us in the years to come is the knowledge that we do not know everything. When we stepped proudly forth last year to receive our high school diplomas, we were modestly conscious of the fact that we had absorbed and held ready for instant use all the knowledge of the known world. But, we have learned our mistake and in addition have learned that of all green things from the emerald Isle of Erin to the bush grass which grows in the fertile valleys of far-off Honolulu, a freshman entering college is undoubtedly the greenest.

—WILLIAM OLIVER.

Book II

Contents

ΚΑ ΦΚΣ
ΦΔΘ ΚΣ ΣΦΕ
ΣΥ ΤΚΑ
Χ Β Φ

MISS MARGARET GARY
Sponsor Book II

Fraternities At Randolph-Macon College

A HISTORY

Name	Chapter	GENERAL Entered	Withdrawn	No. of Initiates
Delta Psi.....	Sigma	1853	1861	92
Kappa Alpha.....	Zeta	1869	—	267
Phi Kappa Psi.....	Va. Epsilon.....	1870	1882	37
Phi Kappa Sigma...	Tau	1872	—	218
Beta Theta Pi.....	Alpha Xi.....	1873	1893	75
Sigma Chi.....	Gamma Gamma.....	1874	1901	88
Phi Delta Theta....	Va. Gamma.....	1874	—	150
Kappa Sigma.....	Eta	1889	—	151
Sigma Phi Epsilon...	Va. Zeta.....	1906	—	76

LITERARY

Sigma Upsilon.....	Osiris	1906	—	67
--------------------	--------------	------	---	----

FORENSIC

Tau Kappa Alpha...	Randolph-Macon	1913	—	23
--------------------	----------------------	------	---	----

SCIENTIFIC

Chi Beta Phi.....	Sphinx (founded at Randolph-Macon College, 1916)			16
-------------------	---	--	--	----

TO OLD K. A.

Where the sweet magnolia blossoms,
And the crimson rose,
Thrive beneath the southern sunshine,
As each K. A. knows—
There was born our Kappa Alpha,
Dear fraternity,
There her sons will guard her honor,
Through eternity.

From the placid Susquehanna
To the Lone Star State,
From the fields of Alabama
To the golden gate
Shines the cross of Kappa Alpha Gleaming ever bright,
Emblem of her glorious precepts,
Standing for the right.

When we leave our college campus,
Never to return,
When the cares of life o'ertake us,
Still for her we yearn;
And until death's sable angel
Calls us to the grave,
We shall praise our well loved Order,
Kappa Alpha brave.

KAPPA ALPHA

ACTIVE CHAPTERS

- | | |
|---|--|
| Alpha—Washington and Lee University. | Alpha Kappa—University of Missouri. |
| Gamma—University of Georgia. | Alpha Lambda—John Hopkins University. |
| Delta—Wofford College. | Alpha Mu—Millsaps College. |
| Epsilon—Emory College. | Alpha Nu—George Washington University. |
| Zeta—Randolph-Macon College. | Alpha Xi—University of California. |
| Eta—Richmond College. | Alpha Omicron—University of Arkansas. |
| Theta—Kentucky State University. | Alpha Pi—Leland Stanford, Jr., University. |
| Kappa—Mercer University. | Alpha Rho—West Virginia University. |
| Lambda—University of Virginia. | Alpha Sigma—Georgia School of Technology. |
| Nu—Alabama Polytechnic Institute. | Alpha Tau—Hampden-Sidney College. |
| Xi—Southwestern University. | Alpha Phi—Trinity College. |
| Omicron—University of Texas. | Alpha Omega—N. C. A. and M. College. |
| Pi—University of Tennessee. | Beta Alpha—Missouri School of Mines. |
| Sigma—Davidson College. | Beta Beta—Bethany College. |
| Upsilon—University of North Carolina. | Beta Gamma—College of Charleston. |
| Chi—Vanderbilt University. | Beta Delta—Georgetown College. |
| Psi—Tulane University. | Beta Epsilon—Delaware College. |
| Omega—Central University of Kentucky. | Beta Zeta—University of Florida. |
| Alpha Alpha—University of the South. | Beta Eta—University of Oklahoma. |
| Alpha Beta—University of Alabama. | Beta Theta—Washington University. |
| Alpha Gamma—Louisiana State University. | Beta Iota—Drury College. |
| Alpha Delta—William Jewell College. | Beta Kappa—Maryland Agricultural College. |
| Alpha Zeta—William and Mary College. | Beta Lambda—Southern Methodist University. |
| Alpha Eta—Westminster College. | |
| Alpha Theta—Transylvania University. | |

Beta Mu—St. John's College

ALUMNI CHAPTERS

- | | | |
|---------------------|--------------------|----------------------|
| Alexandria, La. | Denver, Colo. | New Haven, Conn. |
| Anniston, Ala. | El Paso, Texas. | New Orleans, La. |
| Athens, Ga. | Fort Smith, Ark. | New York, N. Y. |
| Atlanta, Ga. | Greenville, Miss. | Norfolk, Va. |
| Baltimore, Md. | Hopkinsville, Ky. | Raleigh, N. C. |
| Baton Rouge, La. | Ithaca, N. Y. | Richmond, Va. |
| Birmingham, Ala. | Jacksonville, Fla. | Salt Lake City, Utah |
| Boston, Mass. | Kansas City, Mo. | San Francisco, Cal. |
| Canal Zone | Knoxville, Tenn. | Shreveport, La. |
| Chattanooga, Tenn. | Lexington, Ky. | Spartanburg, S. C. |
| Chester, S. C. | Little Rock, Ark. | Springfield, Mo. |
| Charleston, S. C. | Los Angeles, Cal. | St. Louis, Mo. |
| Chicago, Ill. | Louisville, Ky. | Tampa, Fla. |
| Columbia, S. C. | Memphis, Tenn. | Terrill, Texas |
| Columbia University | Mobile, Ala. | Washington, D. C. |
| Columbus, Ga. | Muskogee, Okla. | Wilmington, Del. |
| Dallas, Texas. | Nashville, Tenn. | Winston-Salem, N. C. |

KAPPA ALPHA

(Southern)

Founded at Washington and Lee University, 1865

ZETA CHAPTER

ESTABLISHED 1869

Colors: Crimson and Gold Flower: Magnolia and Red Rose Publication: Kappa Alpha Journal

Fratres in Urbe

Lewis Franklin Blanton	Charles Merle Luck
William Archibald Hammond, Jr.	Dayton Ralph Midyette, Jr., A.B.
Thomas Withers Hoofnagle	James Webb Midyette
James Ficklen Howison, Sr.	George Henry Rice
William Lancaster	Boxley Vaughan
John Thomas Wightman

Fratres in Facultate

Robert Emory Blackwell, A.M., LL.D.	Hall Canter, A.M., Ph.D.
-------------------------------------	--------------------------

Fratres in Collegio

1917

Charles Robert Collins	Littleton Holland Mears
Richard Brooke Lawson	James Manning Potts

1918

Marcus Aurelius Cogbill	Leonard Cecil Mears, Jr.
Arthur Price Morton	Shelton Hardaway Short, Jr.
Charles Wesley Moss	George Beverley West

Roslyn Diehl Young

1919

Lyn Bond	John Dice Lawson
Richard Baskerville Bridgforth	Carroll Gordon Matthews
Harold Norman Smith

1920

James Cecil Dickey	Charles Samuel Luck, Jr.
James Ficklen Howison, Jr.	Ricard Martin
Aubrey Lee Hunt	Reginald Heber Potts

PHI KAPPA SIGMA

1

Brightest of our golden college days,
Days light with laughter,
Were those that so quickly flew away
With comrades true,
Though the years may dim the fading past,
Ever hereafter,
We shall stand together to the last,
Phi Kaps true blue.

2

As we march the road of Life,
Shoulder to shoulder,
Though we suffer in the toil and strife,
Still let us sing.
Life can only mellow with the years,
Light hearts grow bolder,
With good comrades sorrow disappears
And youth is king.

3

Care and trouble vanish like the night
When Phi Kaps gather,
Swift hours fly and merry hearts are light,
Time speeds along.
May our spirits ever youthful be,
Oft may we gather,
Honoring our dear Fraternity
In joyous song.

CHORUS

Hail our Fraternity
Phi Kappa Sigma,
Sing ye the praises of our noble brotherhood,
Loyal and true our hearts
Shall ever be,
Phi Kappa Sigma, all hail to thee!

Phi Kappa Sigma

ACTIVE CHAPTERS

Alpha—University of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania, Pa.
Delta—Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pa.
Epsilon—Dickenson College, Carlisle, Pa.
Zeta—Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa.
Eta—University of Virginia, University P. O., Pa.
Iota—Columbia University in the city of New York.
Mu—Tulane University, New Orleans, La.
Rho—University of Illinois, Champaign, Ill.
Tau—Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Va.
Upsilon—Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.
Phi—Richmond College, Richmond, Va.
Psi—Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa.
Alpha Alpha—Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va.
Alpha Gamma—University of West Virginia, Morgantown, W. Va.
Alpha Delta—University of Maine, Orono, Maine.
Alpha Epsilon—Armour Institute of Technology, Chicago, Ill.
Alpha Zeta—University of Maryland, Baltimore, Md.
Alpha Theta—University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.
Alpha Iota—Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.
Alpha Kappa—University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Ala.
Alpha Lambda—University of California, Berkeley, Cal.
Alpha Mu—Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass.
Alpha Nu—Georgia School of Technology, Atlanta, Ga.
Alpha Xi—Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind.
Alpha Omicron—University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.
Alpha Pi—University of Chicago, Chicago, Ill.
Alpha Rho—Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.
Alpha Sigma—University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.
Alpha Tau—Leland Stanford Junior University, Stanford University P. O., Cal.

ALUMNI CHAPTERS

Philadelphia, Pa.	Pittsburgh, Pa.
Richmond, Va.	Baltimore, Md.
Chicago, Ill.	New Orleans, La.
New York, N. Y.	Southern California, Los Angeles, Cal.

Phi Kappa Sigma

Founded at the University of Pennsylvania, 1850

TAU CHAPTER

ESTABLISHED 1872

Colors: Old Gold and White

Flower: White Carnation

Publication: Phi Kappa Sigma News Letter

Fratres in Urbe

Captain William DuVal Cardwell
Leslie Ellis

Floyd Woodruff Tucker
William Howard Cardwell

Fratres in Facultate

Samuel Claiborne Hatcher, D.D.

Fratres in Collegio

1917

George Russell Maloney
James Edward Moyler, Jr.

Douglas Cook Newman
Gordon Linwood Vincent

1918

Linnwood Butterworth
Ernest Haywood Swift

Fred Newton Cole
Ralph McClung Hiner

1919

Thomas Calvin Davis

Samuel Paul Hatcher

Courtenay Warner Harris

1920

Thomas Henry Birdsong, Jr.
Thomas Arthur Smoot
James Jackson Scott, Jr.

Ernest Wossil Randolph
William Arthur Wightman
Richard Henry Cardwell

Associate Members

William Howard Cardwell

Joseph Henry Lewis

Phi Delta Theta

SONG

Now drink we a measure
To youth and to pleasure,
For this is our season of joy.
With feasting and laughter,
Though parting comes after,
We banish all cares that annoy.

We'll never meet others
More true than these brothers;
Then a health to all jolly good Phis!
May blessings attend them,
Good fortune defend them,
And sunny be ever their skies!

Away with dark sorrow—
Who thinks of the morrow?
This moment is ours for delight.
What world could be fairer,
What friends could be rarer,
Than those who are with us tonight.

Phi Delta Theta

COLLEGE CHAPTERS

Alabama Alpha—Univ. Ala.
 Alabama Beta—Ala. Poly. Inst.
 Calif. Alpha—Univ. Calif.
 Calif. Beta—Leland Stanford Univ.
 Colorado Alpha—Univ. Colorado
 Colorado Beta—Colorado College
 Georgia Alpha—Univ. Georgia
 Georgia Beta—Emory College
 Georgia Gamma—Mercer Univ.
 Georgia Delta—Ga. School of Tech.
 Idaho Alpha—Univ. Idaho
 Illinois Alpha—Northwestern Univ.
 Illinois Beta—Univ. Chicago
 Illinois Delta—Knox College
 Illinois Zeta—Lombard College
 Illinois Eta—Univ. of Illinois
 Indiana Alpha—Ind. Univ.
 Indiana Beta—Wabash College
 Indiana Gamma—Butler Univ.
 Indiana Delta—Franklin College
 Indiana Epsilon—Hanover College
 Indiana Zeta—Depauw Univ.
 Indiana Theta—Purdue Univ.
 Iowa Alpha—Iowa Wesleyan College
 Iowa Beta—Univ. of Iowa
 Iowa Gamma—Iowa State College
 Kansas Alpha—Univ. Kansas
 Kansas Beta—Washburn College
 Kentucky Alpha-Delta—Central Univ.
 Kentucky Epsilon—Ky. State Univ.
 Louisiana Alpha—Tulane Univ.
 Maine Alpha—Colby College
 Massachusetts Alpha—Williams Coll.
 Massachusetts Beta—Amherst College
 Michigan Alpha—Univ. of Michigan
 Minnesota Alpha—Univ. Minn.
 Missouri Alpha—Univ. Missouri
 Missouri Beta—Westminster College
 Missouri Gamma—Washington Univ.
 Nebraska Alpha—Univ. Nebraska
 New Hampshire Alpha—Dartmouth College.

New York Alpha—Cornell Univ.
 New York Beta—Union College
 New York Delta—Columbia Univ.
 New York Epsilon—Syracuse Univ.
 North Carolina Beta—Univ. N. C.
 North Dakota Alpha—Univ. N. Dak.
 Ohio Alpha—Miami Univ.
 Ohio Beta—Ohio Wesleyan Univ.
 Ohio Gamma—Ohio Univ.
 Ohio Zeta—Ohio State Univ.
 Ohio Eta—Case School of Applied Science
 Ohio Theta—Univ. Cincinnati
 Ohio Iota—Denison Univ.
 Ontario Alpha—Univ. Toronto
 Oregon Alpha—Univ. Oregon
 Pennsylvania Alpha—Lafayette Coll.
 Pennsylvania Delta—Allegheny Coll.
 Pennsylvania Gamma—Washington and Jefferson College
 Pennsylvania Delta—Allegheny Coll.
 Pennsylvania Epsilon—Dickinson College
 Pennsylvania Zeta—Univ. Penn.
 Pennsylvania Eta—Lehigh Univ.
 Pennsylvania Theta—Penn. State Coll.
 Quebec Alpha—McGill Univ.
 Rhode Island Alpha—Brown Univ.
 South Dakota Alpha—Univ. S. Dak.
 Tennessee Alpha—Vanderbilt Univ.
 Tennessee Beta—Univ. of the South
 Texas Beta—Univ. Texas
 Texas Gamma—Southwestern Univ.
 Vermont Alpha—Univ. Vermont
 Virginia Beta—Univ. Virginia
 Virginia Gamma—Randolph-Macon College
 Virginia Zeta—Washington and Lee Univ.
 Washington Alpha—Univ. Washington
 Washington Beta—Whitman College
 Wisconsin Alpha—Univ. Wis.

Phi Delta Theta

Founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, December 26, 1848

VIRGINIA GAMMA

ESTABLISHED 1873

Colors: Argent and Azure

Flower: White Carnation

Publication: Scroll

Fratres in Urbe

William Ludlow Chenery

Christopher Tompkins Chenery

Allan Jefferson Chenery

Robert Marye

Charles Stebbins, Jr.

Fratres in Collegio

1917

Frank Patterson Christian, Jr.

1918

Thomas Davis Christian, Jr.

Richard Sale Leftwich

Percy Gray Guilbert

George Walton Riddick

1919

Joseph Young Gayle

1920

Frank Amiss Dusch

King Terrell

Roy O. Waller

Thomas N. Potts, Jr.

Walter Stanford Webb

Kappa Sigma! Hail To You!

Kappa Sigma! well-loved mother!
Kappa Sigma! Hail to you!
We are faithful to each other,
All your sons are brothers too;
Mindful of the oath we swore you,
To our pledges ever true,
Hear us vow again before you
Loyalty to them and you.

Some of us have life before us,
Some of us, alas; behind,
But your precepts still reign o'er us,
And your ties shall ever bind;
A consistent Kappa Sigma
Leads a life that's free from blame;
May we never cause a stigma
To disfigure your dear name.

We all know, O band of brothers!
Why we to her doctrines cling;
Let us then proclaim to others
That we've found it a good thing!
To the many an enigma
Guarded by a chosen few,
Kappa Sigma! Kappa Sigma!
Kappa Sigma!! Hail to you!!!

Kappa Sigma

ACTIVE CHAPTERS

DISTRICT 1.

Psi—Univ. of Maine
Alpha Lambda—Univ. of Vermont
Alpha Rho—Bowdoin College
Beta Alpha—Brown Univ.
Beta Kappa—New Hampshire College
Gamma Delta—Mass. Agri. College
Gamma Epsilon—Dartmouth College
Gamma Eta—Harvard Univ.
Gamma Pi—Mass. Inst. of Tech.

DISTRICT 2

Pi—Swarthmore College
Alpha Epsilon—Univ. Penn.
Alpha Kappa—Cornell Univ.
Beta Iota—Lehigh Univ.
Gamma Zeta—New York Univ.
Gamma Iota—Syracuse Univ.

DISTRICT 3

Alpha Delta—Penn. State College
Alpha Phi—Bucknell Univ.
Beta Delta—Wash. and Jeff. College
Beta Pi—Dickinson College

DISTRICT 4

Zeta—Univ. of Virginia
Eta—Randolph-Macon College
Mu—Washington and Lee Univ.
Nu—William and Mary College
Upsilon—Hampden-Sidney College
Alpha Alpha—Univ. of Maryland
Alpha Eta—Geo. Washington Univ.
Beta Beta—Richmond College

DISTRICT 5

Delta—Davidson College
Eta Prime—Trinity College
Alpha Mu—Univ. N. C.
Beta Upsilon—North Carolina A. & M. College

DISTRICT 6

Beta—Univ. Alabama
Alpha Beta—Mercer Univ.
Alpha Tau—Georgia School of Tech.
Alpha Eta—Alabama Poly. Inst.
Beta Lambda—Univ. Georgia

DISTRICT 7

Gamma—Louisiana State College
Sigma—Tulane Univ.
Alpha Upsilon—Millsaps College

DISTRICT 8

Kappa—Vanderbilt University
Theta—Cumberland Univ.
Lambda—Univ. of Tennessee
Phi—Southwestern Presby. Univ.

Omega—Univ. of the South
Beta Nu—Univ. of Kentucky

DISTRICT 9

Alpha Zeta—Univ. of Michigan
Alpha Sigma—Ohio State Univ.
Beta Phi—Case School of Applied Science
Gamma Xi—Denison Univ.

DISTRICT 10

Chi—Purdue Univ.
Alpha Gamma—Univ. of Illinois
Alpha Pi—Wabash College
Alpha Chi—Lake Forest Univ.
Beta Epsilon—Univ. of Wisconsin
Beta Theta—Univ. of Indiana
Gamma Beta—Univ. of Chicago

DISTRICT 11

Alpha Psi—Univ. of Nebraska
Beta Mu—Univ. of Minnesota
Beta Rho—Univ. of Iowa
Gamma Lambda—Iowa State College

DISTRICT 12

Alpha Omega—William Jewell College
Beta Gamma—Univ. Missouri
Beta Sigma—Washington Univ.
Beta Tau—Baker University
Beta Chi—Missouri School of Mines
Gamma Nu—Washburn College
Gamma Omicron—Univ. of Kansas

DISTRICT 13

Xi—Univ. of Arkansas
Gamma Kappa—Univ. of Oklahoma

DISTRICT 14

Iota—Southwestern Univ.
Tau—Univ. of Texas

DISTRICT 15

Beta Omicron—Univ. of Denver
Beta Omega—Colorado College
Gamma Gamma—Colorado School of Mines

Gamma Rho—Univ. of Arizona

DISTRICT 16

Beta Zeta—Leland Stanford, Jr., University
Beta Xi—Univ. of California

DISTRICT 17

Beta Psi—Univ. of Washington
Gamma Alpha—Univ. of Oregon
Gamma Theta—Univ. of Idaho
Gamma Mu—Washington State Coll.
Gamma Sigma—Oregon Agri. College

Kappa Sigma

Founded at the University of Virginia, 1869

ETA CHAPTER

ESTABLISHED 1889

Colors: Scarlet, White, and Emerald Green Flower: Lily of the Valley Publication: Caduceus

Fratres in Urbe

Henry Drewry Kerr
Fred D. Goodwin

T. H. DeGraffenreid

John Granberry Ellis
Andrew Jackson Ellis

Fratres in Facultate

Henry Grant Ellis, A.B.

William Lee Dolly, Jr., A.M., Ph.D.

Fratres in Collegio

1917

Melville Hunter Dunn

Samuel Thomas Emory

Joseph Clarence Jett, Jr.

1918

James Bowling Moorman

1919

Morris Longhome Lancaster
William Leroy Dunn

John Underwood Reardon

1920

Sidney Leigh Maxey

James Edward Thomas

Taylor Moten Simpson

Ode To Sigma Phi Epsilon

Onward, dear brothers,
Wave your royal banners high;
See our colors blazoned
In the sunrise sky.
All thy sons uphold thee;
All now sing with loud acclaim,
Friendship, true and loyal,
In thy holy name.

CHORUS:

Onward, dear brothers;
All now sing with glad acclaim,
Sing of love and friendship
In thy sacred name.

Hail, heart that marks us
Sons of thy best truth and right;
Hail, star that calleth
Upward to the light;
At the sign of freedom
We with joy obey thy call;
Sundered by Truth's falchion
Chains of bondage fall.

CHORUS:

May thy violets flourish,
And thy roses never fade;
Hope shines before us,
Truth is undismayed:
We are crowned with freedom,
Robed in thy blest purity;
We are loyal brothers
To eternity.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

ACTIVE CHAPTERS

Virginia Alpha—Richmond College
West Virginia Beta—University of West Virginia
Colorado Alpha—University of Colo.
Virginia Delta—William and Mary
College
Pennsylvania Delta—University of Pennsylvania
North Carolina Beta—North Carolina
A. & M. College
Ohio Alpha—Ohio Northern College
Indiana Alpha—Purdue University.
New York Alpha—Syracuse Univ.
Virginia Epsilon—Washington and Lee University
Virginia Zeta—Randolph-Macon Coll.
Georgia Alpha—Georgia School of Technology.
Delaware Alpha—Delaware College
Virginia Eta—Univ. of Virginia
Arkansas Alpha—Univ. of Arkansas
Pennsylvania Epsilon—Lehigh Univ.
Ohio Gamma—Ohio State University
Vermont Alpha—Norwich University
Alabama Alpha—Alabama Poly. Inst.
North Carolina Gamma—Trinity Coll.

New Hampshire Alpha—Dartmouth
College
District of Columbia Alpha—George Washington University
Kansas Alpha—Baker University
California Alpha—Univ. of California
Nebraska Alpha—Univ. of Nebraska
Washington Alpha—Washington State
College
Massachusetts Alpha—Massachusetts
Agricultural College
Rhode Island Alpha—Brown Univ.
New York Beta—Cornell University
Michigan Alpha—Univ. of Michigan
Iowa Alpha—Iowa Wesleyan College
Colorado Beta—Univ. of Colorado
Tennessee Alpha—Univ. of Tennessee
Missouri Alpha—Univ. of Missouri
Wisconsin Alpha—Lawrence College
Pennsylvania Eta—Pennsylvania State College
Ohio Epsilon—Ohio Wesleyan Univ.
Colorado Gamma—Colorado A. & M.
College
Minnesota Alpha—Univ. of Minnesota
Iowa Beta—Iowa State College

ALUMNI CHAPTERS

Chicago
Boulder
Pittsburg
Philadelphia

Columbus
Lafayette
Denver
Syracuse

Norfolk
Newark
Richmond
Montgomery

Raleigh
Atlanta
Northfield

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Founded at Richmond College, 1900

ZETA CHAPTER

ESTABLISHED 1906

Colors: Purple and Red Flowers: American Beauty and Violet Publication: Sigma Phi Epsilon Journal

Fratres in Urbe

Callom Bohannon Jones, A.B., LL.D.

Robert Easley Blankenship, A.B.

Fratres in Collegio

1917

John Alexander Rorer

Kenneth McNeal

Millard Fillmore Parker, Jr.

1918

Wallace Bruce Bowman

Joseph Hebard Harper

1919

Conway Peyton Coe
Thomas Nelson Woodfin

Grayson Vaden Wray
Leroy Lee Sawyer

1920

Henry Irving Bowman
Earl Hoen Brown
Andrew Edmund Brewer

William Linwood Dunton
Robert Ernest Garland
Charles Richardson

Sigma Upsilon

(Literary)

Founded at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee, 1906

OSIRIS CHAPTER

ESTABLISHED 1906

Colors: Green and Gold

Flower: Jonquil

Sopherim Honorarii

Robert Emory Blackwell, A.M., LL.D.

Graham Heath Lambert, D.D.

James Rion McKissick, A.B.

Sopherim in Collegio

Ashby Carlyle Blackwell

Mellville Hunter Dunn

Samuel Thomas Emory

Harold Sample Libis

James Bowling Moorman

James Edward Moyler

Harvey Alexander Neville

George Spottswood Reamey

William Acree Scarborough

Harold Norman Smith

CHAPTERS

Boar's Head.....	Transylvania University
Calumet.....	Vanderbilt University
Kit Kat.....	Millsaps College
Odd Number.....	University of North Carolina
Osiris.....	Randolph-Macon College
Senior Round Table.....	University of Georgia
Scribblers.....	University of Mississippi
Sopherim.....	Sewanee University
Scribes.....	University of South Carolina
Fortnightly Club.....	Trinity College
Coffee House Club.....	Emory College
Attis.....	University of Alabama
Grub Street.....	University of Washington
Gordon Hope.....	William and Mary College
Scarab.....	University of Texas
Blue Pencil.....	Davidson College
Sphinx.....	Hampden-Sidney College
Ye Tabard Inn.....	University of Oregon
Ye Mermaid Inn.....	University of Montana

ALUMNI CHARTER

Nashville, Tennessee

Tau Kappa Alpha

(Forensic)

Founded at Indianapolis, Indiana

Colors: Dark Purple and White

Flower: Laurel

RANDOLPH-MACON CHAPTER

ESTABLISHED 1911

Frater in Facultate

C. H. Ambler, A.B., Ph.D.

Fratres in Collegio

Lyn Bond

M. H. Dunn

H. S. Libis

T. L. Coe

W. E. Hauss

J. M. Potts

H. N. Smith

CHAPTER ROLL

University of Alabama
University of Arkansas
Butler College
Clark University
Cincinnati University
Columbia University
University of Colorado
University of Denver
DePauw University
Dickinson College
Harvard University
University of Indiana
State University of Kentucky
Lawrence College
Louisiana State University
Miami University
University of Montana
Muskingum College

New York University
University of North Carolina University of Oregon
Purdue University
Randolph-Macon College
Richmond College
St. Lawrence University
University of South Dakota
University of Southern California
University of Tennessee
Trinity College N. C.
University of Utah
Vanderbilt University
University of Vermont
University of Washington
Wabash College
Westminster College, Pa.

W. C. HOUSER

H. W. THAYER

J. C. BUTLER

1917

M. W. BUTLER

J. W. BUTLER

T. L. COOK

H. R. ALLEN

Chi Beta Phi

(Scientific Society)

Founded at Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Virginia, 1916

SPHINX CHAPTER

Colors: Colonial Blue and Crimson

Flower: Cape Jasmine

Honorary Members

Hall Canter, A.M., Ph.D.

William Lee Dolly, Jr., A.M., Ph.D. Harley Earles Howe, B.S., A.M., Ph.D.

OFFICERS

E. S. West.....	President
D. C. Newman.....	Vice-President
W. B. Bowman.....	Secretary
H. A. Neville.....	Treasurer

MEMBERS

Edward Stanton West	Ernest Heywood Swift
Douglas Cooke Newman	Harris Magruder Waters
Harvey Alexander Neville	Samuel Graham Kelley
Wallace Bruce Bowman	Roger Lee Creekmur

South Anna River

Neuman's Mill

Science Hall

Campus Scene

Book III

Book III

Contents

Publications

Literary Societies

Debates & Oratory

Y. M. C. A.

Monitor Board

Little Faculty

Story

"The Unknown Grave"

Clubs

ALICE IN NEW
WONDERLAND

MISS NANCY MIDVETTE
Sponsor Book III

Board of Publications

George Spottswood Reamey, W.L.S.....President
Harold Sample Libis.....Secretary
Raymond Bruce Owens.....Treasurer

FRANKLIN LITERARY SOCIETY

James Bowling Moorman
Harold Sample Libis
James Manning Potts

WASHINGTON LITERARY SOCIETY

Harris Magruder Waters
Raymond Bruce Owens
Samuel Thomas Emory

The "Yellow Jacket Weekly" Staff

Melville Hunter Dunn..... Editor-in-Chief
Douglas Cooke Newman..... Business Manager

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

George Spottswood Reamey	Ashby Carlyle Blackwell
James Edward Moyler	John Alexander Rorer

ASSISTANT BUSINESS MANAGERS

Wills Wray Morse	A. E. Brewer	William Ashby Manson
------------------	--------------	----------------------

Franklin Literary Society

OFFICERS

	First Term	Second Term
President	J. B. Moorman	J. E. Moyler
Secretary	G. B. West	Lyn Bond
Censor	W. J. Mays	Herbert Barnes
	Third Term	Fourth Term
President	J. A. Rorer	G. B. West
Secretary	C. P. Coe	R. S. Leftwich
Censor	J. F. Bain	B. W. Davis

ROLL OF MEMBERS

J. P. Bain	H. H. Gills	G. R. Maloney
W. J. Barham	C. W. Harris	D. C. Newman
W. A. Barksdale	Paul Hatcher	E. B. Parker
Herbert Barnes	J. F. Howison	J. M. Potts
T. H. Birdsong	A. L. Hunt	R. H. Potts, Jr.
Lyn Bond	J. C. Jett	T. N. Potts, Jr.
L. Butterworth	Rosewell Jenkins	E. W. Randolph
R. N. Cardwell	S. G. Kelly	W. H. Russell
L. B. Carwile	R. S. Leftwich	J. A. Rorer
E. P. Christian, Jr.	H. S. Libis	G. W. Riddick
T. D. Christian, Jr.	W. A. Manson	S. H. Short
T. L. Coe	G. M. Marshall	P. W. Smith
C. P. Coe	Ricard Martin	I. A. Updike
C. R. Collins	W. J. Mays	G. Z. Updike
B. W. Davis	Kenneth McNeal	R. O. Waller
T. C. Davis	L. H. Mears	W. S. Webb
P. G. Guilbert	A. P. Morton	G. B. West
R. E. Garland	J. B. Moorman	W. A. Wightman
J. Y. Gayle	J. E. Moyler	R. D. Young

Washington Literary Society

	President	Vice-Pres.	Secretary	Censor
First Term...	H. M. Waters	S. T. Emory	W. B. Bowman	C. L. Beard
Second Term...	M. H. Dunn	R. B. Owens	G. S. Reamey	A. C. Blackwell
Third Term...	S. T. Emory	A. C. Blackwell	H. A. Neville	L. L. Smith
Fourth Term...	R. B. Owens	E. H. Swift	A. C. Blackwell	S. T. Emory
Fifth Term...	G. S. Reamey	Paul Gravely	C. L. Beard	W. A. Scarborough

ROLL OF MEMBERS

C. L. Beard	J. M. Hawk	C. E. Sarver
A. C. Blackwell	J. H. Hobbs	R. C. Saunders
H. I. Bowman	E. R. Hopkins	LeRoy Sawyer
W. B. Bowman	Yasushi Ibara	J. W. Sayre
W. L. Brent	William Irby	W. A. Scarborough
A. E. Brewer	John Knox	H. D. Scott
Paul Burch	H. C. Marsh	F. A. Shryock
W. M. Carr	C. G. Matthews	F. P. Shryock
J. A. Coates	T. H. Mitchell	W. F. Shryock
H. L. Coffman	C. V. Morris	J. H. Shumate
J. W. Copley	W. W. Morse	E. W. Simms
W. K. Cunningham	E. L. Mosely	T. M. Simpson
J. C. Dickey	W. S. Mosely	H. N. Smith
M. H. Dunn	C. W. Moss	L. L. Smith
W. L. Dunn	H. A. Neville	R. H. Stephenson
Lynn Dunton	W. E. Oliver	E. H. Swift
C. H. Earp	R. B. Owens	J. E. Thomas
S. T. Emory	N. A. Pattillo	W. E. Thomas
L. D. Fringer	W. W. Pippin	William Turner
Paul Gravely	G. S. Reamey	G. L. Waters
Harold Gravely	J. W. Reynolds	H. M. Waters
S. T. Gray	Charles Rice	A. A. Watkins
R. H. Griffin	Charles Richardson	H. E. White
W. C. Gum	W. J. Richardson	W. A. Whitesell
N. G. Hall	W. B. Robinson	C. F. Williams
W. E. Hauss	G. C. Rosenberger	M. D. Williams

Intercollegiate Debate Council

James Manning Potts, F.L.S.....	President
Charles Wesley Moss.....	Secretary
Lyn Bond	Treasurer
Dr. Charles Henry Ambler.....	Faculty Member

FRANKLIN LITERARY SOCIETY

Lyn Bond

James Bowling Moorman

WASHINGTON LITERARY SOCIETY

Charles Wesley Moss

Harold Norman Smith

T. L. COE

G. S. REAMEY

Triangular Intercollegiate Debate

Richmond College, William and Mary College, Randolph-Macon College.

Friday, March 2, 1917.

Question—Resolved: That Congress should enact a law establishing universal compulsory military training.

WILLIAM and MARY COLLEGE versus RANDOLPH-MACON COLLEGE at Richmond, Va.

Prof. T. J. Moore.....Presiding Officer

Timekeepers

Randolph-Macon
J. B. Moorman

William and Mary
H. A. Noblin

Debaters

Affirmative, Randolph-Macon
T. L. Coe
G. S. Reamey

Negative, William and Mary
C. S. Moorman
S. W. Eason

Judges

Dr. B. F. Rudd

Hon. J. W. Williams

Dr. J. C. Metcalf

Unanimous decision in favor of the Affirmative.

W. K. CUNNINGHAM.

H. S. LIBIS.

Triangular Intercollegiate Debate

Richmond College, William and Mary College, Randolph-Macon College.
Friday, March 2, 1917.

Question—Resolved: That Congress should enact a law establishing universal compulsory military training.

RICHMOND COLLEGE versus RANDOLPH-MACON COLLEGE at Williamsburg, Va.

Z. T. Kyle.....Presiding Officer.

Timekeepers

Richmond College
B. D. Allen

Randolph-Macon
M. H. Dunn

Debaters

Affirmative, Richmond College
L. M. Latane
W. L. Tiller

Negative, Randolph-Macon
W. K. Cunningham
H. S. Libis

Judges

Pres. L. G. Tyler

Prof. W. K. Keeble

Mr. G. A. Dovell

Unanimous decision in favor of the Negative.

LYN BOND

W. E. HAUSS

Intercollegiate Debate

Wake Forest College versus Randolph-Macon College
at Raleigh, N. Carolina, Monday April 9, 1917.

Question—Resolved: That the Constitution of the United States should be so amended as to prohibit the Manufacture or Sale of Intoxicating Liquors.

Dr. C. E. Brewer.....Presiding Officer
Mr. W. B. Gladney.....Timekeeper

Debaters

Affirmative, Randolph-Macon

W. E. Hauss

Lyn Bond

Negative, Wake Forest

H. E. Olive

A. C. Reid

Judges

Hon. Henry Page

J. S. Manning

Judge J. Crawford Biggs

Debates

When the Preliminary for the Triangular Inter-collegiate Debates was held, six men appeared. As representatives of the Franklin Literary Society, Messrs. Libis and T. L. Coe contested with Messrs. Cunningham, Moss, Reamy and Swift of the Washington Literary Society. Owing to unavoidable circumstances, the other two representatives of the Franklin Literary Society Messrs. C. P. Coe and Rorer were forced to resign.

Due to their ability to present their arguments so forcibly, so logically and so clearly, Messrs. T. L. Coe, Cunningham, Libis and Reamey were favored by the judges.

By the action of the Debate Council, Messrs. T. L. Coe and Reamey were chosen to oppose the team from William and Mary College, while upon Messrs. Cunningham and Libis devolved the duty of combating with Richmond College. With great diligence they applied themselves to their task, day after day heard we their voices ringing out on the quiet air. But this was not in vain. The hurrahs of the students on the night of second of March told the passerby that another championship cup had been added to the long list, of which Randolph-Macon rightly boasts.

The third debate of the year is to be with Wake Forest College. For the preliminary to this Messrs. J. M. Potts and Bond of the Franklin Literary Society and Messrs. Hauss and Morse of the Washington Literary Society prepared their largest guns. Upon the resignations of Messrs. Potts and Morse, the other two gentlemen were declared elected to the team. To these, we confidently entrust the privilege of upholding the enviable record of their Alma Mater.

DEBATE CUPS

Public Debate of The Franklin Literary Society

President

H. S. Libis

First Vice-President

C. W. Harris

Second Vice-President

Lyn Bond

Chief Marshal

Herbert Barnes

Question

Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Require Compulsory Arbitration of Labor Disputes on Inter-State Railroads.

Debaters

Affirmative

J. Y. Gayle

R. H. Potts, Jr.

Negative

A. P. Morton

R. E. Garland

Public Debate of The Washington Literary Society

President

S. T. Emory

First Vice-President

R. B. Owens

Second Vice-President

H. M. Waters

Chief Marshal

W. E. Hauss

Question

Resolved: That the Illiteracy Test Included in the Immigration Bill, Recently Passed by Congress, is for the Best Interests of the Country.

Debaters

Affirmative

C. V. Morris
W. L. Dunn

Negative

Joseph Coates
H. A. Neville

| Orators |

William Judkins Barham, Virginia
Franklin Literary Society
Preliminary to
the
Virginia State Oratorical Contest.
"Over The Alps Lies Italy."

Wesley Moore Carr, West Virginia
Washington Literary Society
Sutherland Oratorical Contest.
"The Demands of the Future Civilization."

| Orators |

Conway Peyton Coe, Maryland
Franklin Literary Society
Preliminary to
the
Virginia State Oratorical Contest.
"A New Nationalism."

Harry Lewis Coffman, West Virginia
Washington Literary Society
Preliminary to
the
Virginia State Oratorical Contest.
"The Price of Success."

| Orators |

Melville Hunter Dunn, Virginia
Washington Literary Society
Sutherland Oratorical Contest.
"The Curse of the Twentieth Century."

Harold Sample Libis, Illinois
Franklin Literary Society
Sutherland Oratorical Contest.
"The Moral Equivalent of War."

| Orators |

Charles Wesley Moss, Virginia
Washington Literary Society
Preliminary to
the
Virginia State Oratorical Contest.
"Wilson, the Man of the Hour."

James Edward Moyler, Jr., Virginia
Franklin Literary Society
Sutherland Oratorical Contest.
"The Power of Purpose."

Young Men's Christian Association

Cabinet

Charles Wesley Moss.....	President
Harris Magruder Waters.....	First Vice-President
Dr. Frank Leighton Day.....	Second Vice-President
George Spottswood Reamey.....	Secretary
George Beverly West.....	Treasurer

Chairman of Committees

Wills Wray Morse.....	Bible Study
Yasushi Ibara.....	Mission Study
Harold Norman Smith } Joseph Hebard Harper } James Edward Moyler }	Fall Campaign

Board of Monitors

OFFICERS

John Alexander Rorer.....President
George Russell Maloney.....Secretary

MEMBERS

John P. Branch Memorial Dormitory

Roslyn Diehl Young.....Middle Wing, First Floor
George Beverly West.....Middle Wing, Second Floor
Frank Patterson Christian, Jr.....Middle Wing, Third Floor
James Henry Shumate.....West Wing, First Floor
John Alexander Rorer.....West Wing, Second Floor
George Russell Maloney.....West Wing, Third Floor

Mary Louise Kerr Branch Dormitory

Joseph Clarence Jett.....North Wing
Samuel Graham Kelly.....Middle Wing
Richard Sale Leftwich.....South Wing

Cottages

Ashby Carlyle Blackwell

Little Faculty

Edward Stanton West.....	Dean
Ashby Carlyle Blackwell.....	Mathematics
Melville Hunter Dunn.....	Latin
Samuel Graham Kelly.....	Physics
James Edward Moyler.....	English
Lester Lee Smith.....	Biology
Edward Stanton West.....	Chemistry

L.L. Smith

S.C. Kelley

M.H. Dunn

Little Faculty

E.S. West

J.E. Moyler

A.C. Blackwell

The Unknown Grave

IT was a stormy night in January of 1814, and the wind was driving the cold rain thru the streets of Charleston at a rapid pace. The dampness penetrated everything. Few pedestrians were on the streets, and these were hurrying for home or their destinations.

Captain Ralph Bender, owner of the schooner Dorothy Dix, was at home for the first time in many months. Even the grizzly old sea captain was thankful to be at home on such a night as this. Suddenly there was a low timid knock at the door. A woman, heavily veiled, entered the room. Her dress and manner indicated that she possessed culture and refinement, and also that she was a lady of high social station in life.

No one knows the nature of the conversation that passed between Ralph Bender and the lady, but, as a result of it, Bender ordered his crew to make the Dorothy Dix ready for a voyage as soon as possible. This order was received with amazement by the crew, for only yesterday their captain had ordered the boat to the dock indefinitely to await more peaceable times. The English Navy was, at the time, playing havoc with the few American vessels that dared to venture on the seas. Added to this danger was that of pirates. America and England were engaged in war, and as a result great bands of pirates roamed over the Atlantic and fearlessly captured every ship that gave promise of containing treasure.

Within a week, the captain had secured a cargo of goods and was ready to sail for New York. The evening before the schooner set sail, a lady, dressed in black, and heavily veiled so that none of her features were exposed to the inquisitive gaze of the crew, boarded the ship. She retired at once to the cabin that was generally used by the captain himself, and Bender issued orders that she should not be disturbed for any reason.

The first two days of the voyage passed without incident. The weather was good and fair winds sent the Dorothy Dix speedily on her way. The veiled lady had her meals brought to her cabin door. Frequently she appeared on deck, but on such occasions spoke to no one.

On the third day of the voyage, a heavy fog hid the ship and made its progress very slow and difficult. About noon the fog disappeared, and the sun shone brightly. Much to the amazement of all aboard the "Dorothy Dix," a brig was seen on the starboard side sailing rapidly down on them.

Ralph Bender was in the truest sense of the word a brave man, who would not flinch at the most perilous danger. However, the crew could not help but observe that he was very uneasy as to the identity of the ship that was so rapidly bearing down upon them. Every stitch of sail was spread that the schooner could stand under, and everything was done to place as great a distance as possible between the two vessels. In spite of all their efforts, however, the larger, unknown boat steadily bore down upon the smaller one. When within a hundred yards of the fleeing vessel, a black flag with a red skull and cross bones was run up to the mast, showing Bender and his crew that they were about to be taken by pirates.

The commotion raised on board the Dorothy Dix soon brought the mysterious, veiled lady on deck. With the agitation caused by the pirates she could not refrain from coming out to inquire into the cause of the confusion.

The pirates were now along the broadside of the schooner and rapidly boarded the Dorothy Dix. A fierce struggle followed in which one side, and then the other, seemed to be victorious. At last Captain Bender and all of his party were made prisoners and carried aboard the pirate ship.

After taking over all the cargo of value, a shot was fired into the Dorothy Dix just below the water line. The little schooner keeled over on her side and pathetically sank into the deep, never to rise again.

There was great revelry among the pirates as the ill-fated vessel disappeared. They engaged themselves in drinking and preparing for the trial of the prisoners which was about to take place. The leader of the pirates at last assumed the judicial chair, and one by one the prisoners were brought before him.

The first pleaded earnestly for his life, but, in spite of his efforts, the captain ordered him blindfolded, and he was compelled "to walk the plank." In a short time Bender and the remainder of his crew were swallowed by the waves in a similar manner.

As the last prisoner was brought on deck the few who were not completely under the influence of whiskey were amazed to see standing before them a lady, dressed in black, with a heavy veil over her face. The captain ordered her locked in his cabin, and commanded that she should be carefully guarded.

The next morning the pirate captain entered the cabin which was occupied by the mysterious lady. It was not to be wondered at that he found her in a fever. Never had she possessed so much beauty as on that morning. The captain was deeply touched by the sight before him. His heart was filled with love; and in his own blunt way he begged the lady to become his wife. She knew that to refuse meant death and at length agreed, on condition that the captain desert the pirate band and live an honorable life on shore. The pirate was so captivated by the charms of feminine grace before him that he agreed to leave the ship that very night.

In the stillness of midnight, a small boat was lowered without disturbing the half-drunken pirates. The captain went to the cabin for his precious passenger and soon they were out on the sea, bound for shore. Finally after it had seemed ages to the female stranger, the sun rose, showing Cape Charles on one, and Cape Henry on the other side of the bay. Unobserved by the pirate, very cautiously the lady passenger dropped a sealed bottle into the water.

The small boat continued its journey up the Chesapeake Bay for several days. At last, before the break of day, Alexandria was reached and a landing was made. The captain attempted to arouse the lady, whom he thought was asleep; but he found that it was a sleep from which she would never wake. The mysterious veiled lady was dead.

Overcome by grief, the fearless commander of the sea robbers carried the remains of his companion into the town. There he ordered her buried in the best possible manner, commanding that no expense should be spared in the arrangements for her funeral. After attending the burial and ordering a monument placed over the grave, he disappeared.

For a dozen successive years, he returned on the anniversary of his beloved one's death, to put fresh flowers upon her grave and see that the grass was neatly trimmed. During these pilgrimages of devotion, he was ferried directly from Washington and back, without stopping or speaking to anybody in Alexandria. At the end of twelve years, his visits ceased and the grave of his supposed wife became neglected.

Today, many pilgrims to the tomb of Washington stop at the old St. Paul's churchyard, to view there a large marble slab resting upon six carved columns and bearing the following strange inscription:

* * * * *

TO THE MEMORY
OF A
FEMALE STRANGER
Whose Mortal Sufferings
Terminated on the 4th day of February, 1814.

This stone is erected by her disconsolate husband, who, under God, did his utmost to soothe the cold, dull ear of death.

*How loved, how honored once, avails thee not,
To whom related, or by whom begot;
A heap of dust alone remains of thee—
'Tis all thou art, and all the proud shall be.*

To whom gave all the prophets witness, that through His name, whosoever believeth on Him shall receive remission of sins.

* * * * *

In the summer of 1814 a fisherman found a bottle in his net one evening. He was about to throw it back into the sea in disgust when he noticed a paper inside. Breaking it open he found an envelope addressed to:—Aaron Burr, New York.

* * * * *

Opening the envelope he read the following note written in a nervous feminine handwriting:

* * * * *

February 1, 1814

Dear Father: I am writing this on board a pirate ship in the Atlantic Ocean. I was on my way to New York to see you, on a schooner called the "Dorothy Dix." Yesterday pirates captured our boat, and all were put to death by a most horrible means. Only by the grace of God was I spared a similar fate.

In case I should not be permitted to see you again on this earth, remember your daughter loved you and believed in your innocence till the last.

Lovingly,

Theodosia Burr Alston.

* * * * *

(Theodosia Burr Alston, wife of Governor Alston, of South Carolina, in 1814 left Charleston for New York to visit her father, Aaron Burr. The vessel in which she began the voyage was never heard of after leaving Charleston and Mrs. Alston likewise disappeared. Some time after in Alexandria, Va., a monument was erected to an unknown female, and this slab, with its peculiar inscription, can be seen today.)

Harold S. Libis.

The Ministerial Band

Officers

Charles Wesley Moss.....	President
James Bowling Moorman.....	Vice-President
Jesse Harrison Hobbs.....	Secretary

Members

J. W. Arthur	W. H. Euston	J. B. Moorman
C. L. Beard	I. D. Fringer	W. W. Morse
B. B. Bland	W. C. Gum	C. W. Moss
W. L. Brent	W. E. Hauss	T. N. Potts, Jr.
A. E. Brewer	J. H. Hoobs	J. W. Reynolds
R. B. Clagett	J. L. Kibler	N. C. Rice
H. L. Coffman	John Knox	J. A. Rorer
W. K. Cunningham	W. W. McIntire	H. N. Smith
M. F. Draper	G. M. Marshall	W. E. Thomas
C. H. Earp	C. G. Matthews	A. A. Watkins

Student Volunteers

Affiliated with The Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions.

"Venite post me, faciamque vos piscatores hominum."

W. A. Barksdale
W. M. Carr
W. H. Euston
Yasushi Ibara
C. V. Morris

E. S. West
H. M. Waters
G. L. Waters
G. S. Reamey
H. A. Neville

Leaders of Bible and Mission Study Classes

Clarence Leonard Beard

William Edwin Hauss

Jesse Harrison Hobbs

William Ashby Manson

Carroll Gordon Matthews

Wills Wray Morse

Harvey Alexander Neville

George Spottswood Reamey

Lester Lee Smith

William Evan Thomas

Harris Magruder Waters

George Beverly West

Bedford Club

Officers.

Carroll Matthews.....	President
Herbert Barnes.....	Vice-President
L. Butterworth.....	Secretary
Waller.....	Treasurer
Maloney.....	Reporter for the Yellow Jacket Weekly
B. W. Davis.....	Sergeant-at-arms

Members

Arthur	Bain	Butterworth
Bland	Bond	Hobbs
Davis B. W.*	Draper	Libis
Kelley	Kibler	Morton
Maloney	Matthews	Russel
Moss	Parker M. F.	Udlike G. Z.
Scott	Smith H. N.	Wray
Udlike I. A.	Barnes

—* Not in picture

Front Royal Club

Officers

D. C. Newman.....	President
H. M. Waters.....	Vice-President
R. M. Hiner.....	Secretary
C. L. Beard.....	Treasurer
T. L. Coe.....	Reporter
Ricard Martin.....	Sergeant-at-arms

Members

Beard	Harper	Randolph
Carr	Hiner	Richardson, Chas.
Coe, T. L.	McIntire	Waters, G. L.
Cunningham	Marsh	Waters, H. M.
Hall	Martin	Williams, M. B.

Cicero and his Friends

Doctor Marcus Tullius Cicero Bowen

"Senevola" Dunn

"Cato the Elder" Mears

"Caelius" Jett

"Octavius" Parker

"Dolabella" Lawson

"Sulpicius" Potts

"Atticus" Vincent

Beowulf and his Friends

Doctor Beowulf Blackwell

"Aelfred" Emory

"Wulfstan" Shryock

"Ohthere" Lawson

"Wiglaf" West

Note—Cicero and Beowulf being ashamed of their friends refused to appear in the pictures.

SLIDE RULE SLIDERS or SATELLITES OF PHYSICS II.

Davis, T. C.	Guilbert	Gravelly, Paul	Copley
Ceres	Venus	Earth	Mars
Kelly	DOCTOR HARLEY EARLE HOWE.....SOL		Manson
Juno	Libis	Richardson	Saturn
Rorer	Neptune	Uranus	Harris
Mercury			Jupiter

Hanover Cotillion Club

Officers

Linnwood Butterworth	President
Theodore Lawrence Coe	Vice-President
Lyn Bond	Secretary
Wallace Bruce Bowman	Manager

Members

T. H. Birdsong	C. B. Luck	Ricard Martin
Lyn Bond	T. L. Coe	L. H. Mears
W. B. Bowman	F. A. Dusch	A. P. Morton
R. B. Bridgforth	P. G. Guilbert	D. C. Newman
Linnwood Butterworth	C. W. Harris	E. W. Randolph
L. B. Carwile	A. L. Hunt	W. J. Richardson
F. P. Christian, Jr.	J. D. Lawson	S. H. Short
T. D. Christian, Jr.	R. B. Lawson	King Terrell
C. P. Coe	R. S. Leftwich	J. E. Thomas

Fraternity "Goats"

T. H. Birdsong, ΦΚΣ
H. I. Bowman, ΣΦΕ
A. E. Brewer, ΣΦΕ
E. H. Brown, ΣΦΕ
T. C. Davis, ΦΚΣ
J. C. Dickey, KA
Lynn Dunton, ΣΦΕ

F. A. Dusch, ΦΔΘ
J. Y. Gayle, ΦΔΘ
J. F. Howison, KA
A. L. Hunt, KA
Ricard Martin, KA
S. T. Maxey, ΚΣ
R. H. Potts, Jr., KA

T. N. Potts, Jr., ΦΔΘ
E. W. Randolph, ΦΚΣ
Charles Richardson, ΣΦΕ
T. M. Simpson, ΚΣ
J. E. Thomas, ΚΣ
R. O. Waller, ΦΔΘ
W. S. Webb, ΦΔΘ

Gammas

Frank Patterson Christian,
 Jr.
 Thomas Davis Christian, Jr.
 Marcus Aurelius Cogbill
 Samuel Thomas Emory
 Percy Gray Guilbert
 Joseph Clarence Jett
 Samuel Graham Kelly
 Richard Brooke Lawson
 James Bowling Moorman
 Millard Fillmore Parker, Jr.
 George Walton Riddick
 John Alexander Rorer
 Edgar Walker Simms
 Gordon Linwood Vincent,
 Jr.
 Harris Magruder Waters
 Roslyn Diehl Young

F. P. Christian, Jr.
 M. A. Cogbill
 M. H. Dunn
 J. C. Jett
 R. B. Lawson
 R. S. Leftwich
 L. C. Mears
 K. McNeal
 D. C. Newman
 E. H. Swift
 G. B. West

ROYAL KNIGHTS OF THE SKULL AND BONES.

Book IV

Contents

Football
Baseball Basketball
Tennis

MISS MILDRED HART
Sponsor Book IV.

Football Team

Officers

M. A. Cogbill.....	Captain
G. R. Maloney.....	Manager
L. W. Reiss.....	Coach

Line-up

Christian	Ends	Moss
Copley	Tackles	Hudnall
Morton	Guards	Meyberg
Waters	Halfbacks	Young
Randolph		Fullback
Cogbill Capt.		Quarterback
Creekmur		Center

Substitutes

Hiner.....	Quarter and Full
Reardon	Halfback

SCHEDULE

Sept. 23.....	Norfolk Blues
Sept. 30.....	Washington and Lee
Oct. 7.....	Catholic, U.
Oct. 14.....	U. T. S.
Oct. 21.....	William and Mary
Oct. 28.....	Hampden-Sidney
Nov. 4.....	Richmond College
Nov. 11.....	William and Mary
Nov. 25.....	Hampden-Sidney
Dec. 2.....	Richmond College

A SUMMARY

The football season this year was not what would be called a successful one.

It began with an awful walloping administered by the representatives of Washington and Lee. Our team was outweighed about thirty pounds to the man. At times, we held well but it was too much for us. They made their gains on long end runs; the weight of their interference smothering our ends and backs.

Then came the games with the Norfolk Blues, Union Theological Seminary, and Catholic University. In these, the team began to work together better, though they still could not seem to play the grade of ball of which they were capable. The men did not work as a machine on account of there being so many new men on the team.

After these came the championship series. We opened it with a surprise for everybody. William and Mary had spread abroad the news that she had the best team in the last five years. However, the team journeyed down to their grounds with the determination to do or die. After the first few minutes of play the final outcome was not doubtful. Though they fought like tigers, we rolled up seventeen points to their zero. This was our first victory, and great was the joy caused thereby.

The following Saturday we journeyed to Farmville to try to trap the Hampden-Sidney "TIGERS" in their den. But this game did not end as the first, and this, our second contest, ended in the score of fourteen to six.

Our hard luck started in the first game against Richmond College. On the second down, "Mac" dislocated his elbow and was forced to retire from the game. Naturally this took some of the spirit out of the game, but they fought on gamely to the end. The game was a freak all the way thru, both sides fumbling badly. Richmond won, to a great extent, on her ability to take advantage of the breaks.

The second William and Mary game was a heart breaker. We went into the game badly crippled. "Mac" and Randolph, our two best ground-gainers were out on account of injuries, and some of the others still felt the effects of the last game. It is sufficient to say that William and Mary earned the games by their playing.

The second game with Hampden-Sidney was also a surprise. Hampton-Sidney was leading in the race for the cup and everyone expected Randolph-Macon to be swamped. Yet, once again, the "dope" was upset and we came out of the contest tied, 0 to 0. This game tied up the cup between Richmond College and Hampden-Sidney.

And now comes the last sad chapter of this tale. For the first time in history, Richmond College beat us twice in the same year. Yet it must be acknowledged that they deservedly won. We make no excuses.

Did we have a good team? WE DID. As a testimony to this fact, witness the way in which we held Hampden-Sidney several times on our eight-yard line; witness the way in which we held Richmond College for two downs on our two-foot line. BETTER LUCK NEXT YEAR.

Varsity Club

Frank Patterson Christian, Jr.
 Marcus Aurelius Cogbill.
 John Walker Copley
 Roger Lee Creekmur
 Ralph McClung Hiner
 Otto Meyberg
 Arthur Price Morton
 Charles Wesley Moss
 Ernest Wossil Randolph
 Harris Magruder Waters

"Mac" Cogbill
Captain, Quarterback, Halfback

"Mac" is one of the best all-around men we have had for some years. He is a fine offensive back, and on the defense he is hard to beat. Combined with these qualities he is a clean, hard, sportsman-like athlete.

"Frank" Christian
Left End

"Frank" is probably one of the lightest ends playing college football. Nevertheless he is always on the job and plays a hard game. He has made us a "game scrapper," a good loser, and a good end.

"Cop" Copley
Left Tackle

Here is a year old "fish" who is making good on the gridiron. He was a little inexperienced this year and so could not do his best, but he should make us a "star" next year.

"Hoot" Morton
Captain-Elect, Left Guard

"Hoot" is a bear all right. Though a little light for guard, he makes up for it in head work and grit. He was out of the game a part of the season on account of injuries, but we hope he will have better luck next time.

"Pierotti" Creekmur
Center

Creekmur obtained the above cognomen from the good showing he put up against W. and L. Though light he is an aggressive player. This was his first year at center and he performed very creditably indeed.

"Otto" Meyberg
Right Guard

Here is the only large man on the team. Even though this was his first year in college athletics, he has made good. He proved a rock in the line when he had to hold and at other times he broke thru nailing his man.

"Lucky" Hudnall
Right Tackle

Hudnall has played two years for R. M., one as guard, and one as tackle. He has certainly filled both positions admirably. He plays a steady, consistent game. His loss will be greatly felt next year.

"Ivory" Moss
Right End

Charlie Moss has refused to play football until this year. When he finally came to stay he made a good end. He is fast, clean, and hard; and has proven a valuable asset to the team.

"Possum" Young
Halfback

Young is another steady man. He plays a strong defensive game, and though he did not often carry the ball he could hit the line a solid lick. Probably his greatest asset was the way he backed up a line.

"Fish" Randolph
Fullback

Randolph is first and last an offensive back. When running with the ball, he is a wonder, being as hard to hold as a greasy pig. He is also good on the forward pass and punt. If he ever can get the defensive part, he will be the best fullback in this section.

"Harris" Waters
Halfback

Harris is one of the best little halfbacks on our team. "Gritty" from head to foot, we are able to count on him at all times and he always produces the goods. We shall miss him next year as he is a senior.

"Nuts" Hiner
Quarterback, Fullback,

"Nuts" had to make himself useful this year, filling from time to time the positions of quarterback and fullback. He just began to attract attention in the W. and M. game, where he played a beautiful game. He plays hard, and fights to the last ditch.

Basketball Team

Waters, H. M.	Captain
Waters, H. M.	Manager
Riess, L. W.	Coach
Waters, Capt.	Left Forward
Coe, C. P.	Right Forward
Coe, T. L.
Thomas	Center
Butterworth	Left Guard
Smoot	Right Guard

SCHEDULE

Dec. 7	U. T. S.
Dec. 9	Church Hill
Jan. 17	Fairmount
Jan. 20	U. of Virginia
Jan. 24	Eastern College
Jan. 27	Hampden-Sidney
Jan. 29	Washington and Lee
Jan. 30	V. M. I.
Jan. 31	V. P. I.
Feb. 1	Roanoke College
Feb. 9	Hampden-Sidney
Feb. 10	Catholic U.
Feb. 14	William and Mary
Feb. 17	Richmond College
Feb. 21	Richmond Y. M. C. A.
Feb. 24	William and Mary
Feb. 28	Richmond College

Basketball—A Retrospect

When last year's season closed, the prospects for a winning team this year were bright. However, when the 1916-17 session opened, three men failed to return. The current opinion was that we would not have much of a team, and we did not dream of the championship. This opinion was further heightened by our exhibition games before Christmas.

After Christmas we got down to hard work. Our first game was won from Fairmount by a comfortable margin.

The first Championship game was played with H-S at Farmville. This game was probably the hardest of the season, and we emerged victors by a score of 20-19. At Lexington, Blacksburg, and Salem we ran up fairly good scores.

The championship series really began on February 9th, our second meeting with H-S. Our showing was more promising in this game, though they were handicapped by the loss of Captain Murray. The Indians were scalped the following Wednesday. This gave us three straight victories, matched by Richmond College. Thus the crucial contest and the one on which the cup hung, was on February 17th, with Richmond College. Cheered by their loyal supporters, they started off in a rush. We came back strong and tied the score near the end of the game, but with forty seconds to play, R. C. shot a goal and the game was theirs. Incidentally it meant the cup.

The following Saturday we played William and Mary our (champ) game. Every one expected us to win. At the end of the first half the score stood 16 to 11 in our favor. However W. and M. came back strong and had forged two points ahead when Waters was knocked out. Any how, we lost the game and all hopes of the cup.

The last battle with Richmond College was another big surprise. Richmond fought to equal the record made by R-M. in 1914 i. e.—six straight victories. Randolph Macon was equally determined not to forfeit to Richmond College her record. R. C. had the advantage at the close of the first period, and in the second even widened the breach. With ten minutes to play, and with the score 18-10 in their favor, one of the greatest "come-backs" ever witnessed was enacted. R. M. won by a score of 23-19.

Thus ends the tale of a cup lost by a good team. Though the race was exceedingly close in the scores, and though R. C. finally won out, nevertheless, critics award the honor of having the best team to Randolph-Macon. If these same men could work together another year, the championship would be assured R. M. Five of the six lettered men will return next year.

Here's to the team of 1917-18.

BASEBALL

Baseball Team

L. Butterworth.....Captain
 F. P. Christian.....Manager
 L. W. Reiss.....Coach

THE TEAM

Lancaster.....	First Base
Cogbill.....	Second Base
Riddick.....	Third Base
Butterworth Capt.	Short Stop
Meyberg.....	Catcher
Moss.....	Center Field
Leftwich.....	Left Field
Morton }.....	Right Field
Richardson }
Woodfin }.....	Pitchers
Davis }

Baseball—A Prophecy

As the curtain rises upon the 1917 baseball season, we see Day field swarming with candidates for the honor of representing Randolph-Macon on the diamond. Last year's team is represented by Captain Butterworth, "Mac" Cogbill, "Dick" Leftwich, "Ivory" Moss and "Tom" Woodfin. These men make a strong nucleus around which to build a winning team. Among the class of students locally known as "fish" we have some very good material.

Concerning the probable line-up, uncertainty exists. Rainy weather is mostly to blame for our not having settled down to work. Frequently have games been postponed on account of wet grounds and inclement weather. But if we must make a statement of the facts, the prospects are rather bright. In numbers our pitching staff is weak but we expect Tom Woodfin to show up in his usual good form. Among the recruits are Robinson, Davis, Walton, Gum, and Brown. While they struggle for the position of twirler, Meyberg and Lawson are fighting for the back-stop position. Lancaster, Dickey and Turner are the candidates for first base, the scales being tipped slightly in Lancaster's favor. "Mac" and "Butter" will probably take care of second and short though Creekmur, Dunton, and Williams are still in the race. At third Riddick and Birdsong are showing hot rivalry. In the outfield the choice will come between "Hoot" Morton, and "Fish" Richardson; "Ivory" and "Dick" having their places cinched.

From this brief sketch it will be seen that no matter who eventually composes the personnel of the team we will be well represented. We are looking for big things and we can do big things if we will. So get out and work hard and land us the cup. We need another cup to add to those seventeen which are displayed with just pride.

Tennis Team

Doubles
Newman
Swift

Singles
Smoot
Shumate

Blackwell Manager

Tennis Club

Tennis Club

E. H. Swift.....	President
T. L. Coe.....	Vice-President
A. C. Blackwell.....	Manager

Blackwell	Hiner	Scarborough
Bowen	Howison	Shryock, P.
Bowman	Knox	Shryock, W. F.
Brewer	Marsh	Shumate
Brown	Martin	Simpson
Burch	Mills	Smith, L. L.
Carr	Moyler	Smoot
Coates	Newman	Swift
Coe, T. L.	Parker, E. B.	Thomas, J. E.
Davis, T. C.	Patillo	Thomas, W. E.
Dunn, M. H.	Rice, C. A.	Uddike, I. A.
Dunn, W. L.	Richardson	Vincent
Gills	Robinson	Waller
Griffin	Rosenberger	Waters, G. L.
Gilbert	Saunders	Webb
Harris	Scott	Williams, M. D.
Hawk		Whitesell

These ADVERTISERS

have supported

The Yellow Jacket

and merit the patronage of RANDOLPH-MACON MEN

Medical College of Virginia

Medical College of Virginia
University College of Medicine Consolidated

Medical, Dentistry
Pharmacy

New College Building, completely equipped and modern laboratories; extensive Dispensary Service; Hospital facilities furnish 400 clinical beds; individual instruction; experienced Faculty, practical curriculum.

For catalogue or information, address

J. R. McCauley, Secretary,
Richmond, Va.

HENRY CLAY INN
THE ONLY HOTEL IN ASHLAND

Meals served at all hours

Special rates for COLLEGE STUDENTS

Try our service

WM. WALLACE, Proprietor

ESTABLISHED 1818

Brooks Brothers.
CLOTHING,
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods.

MADISON AVENUE COR. FORTY-FOURTH STREET
NEW YORK

Telephone Murray Hill 8800

Men's and Boys' Clothing for Every Requirement
Ready-made and to Measure
Suits and Overcoats for Business, Dress or Sport
English and Domestic Hats and Shoes
Shirts, Cravats, Collars, Pajamas, Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves
Dressing Gowns, Travellers' Requisites, Leather Goods, Waistcoats, Caps, Sweaters, and Mufflers of Shetland or Angora Wool
Imported Pipes, Tobacco Pouches, Cigarette Cases
Liveries for all Men Servants

*Our New Illustrated Catalogue
Containing more than One Hundred Photographs will be sent on request*

SALES OFFICES
BOSTON BRANCH
FREMONT COR. BOYLSTON ST.

SALES OFFICES
NEWPORT BRANCH
220 BELLEVUE AVENUE

BROOKS BROTHERS'
New Building, convenient to Grand Central, Subway, and to many of the leading Hotels and Clubs

The Quality Clothes Shop

Has the Clothes to Wear for the MEN and YOUNG MEN who care

Compare our Clothes and Prices before buying elsewhere.

We promise three things—

Quality, Service and Confidence.

If we fail in either, your money back on demand

QUALITY CLOTHES SHOP

418 East Broad St.

RICHMOND, VA.

Randolph-Macon Woman's College

1893

Lynchburg, Virginia

1917

Randolph-Macon Woman's College invites graduates of four-year high schools to investigate the opportunities it offers for obtaining a standard college education under most favorable conditions. It is one of the largest high-grade colleges for women in the United States, and has a beautiful location and a splendid equipment of buildings and apparatus. Its officers and instructors number 65, and its student enrollment, representing 35 states and foreign countries, is 624. The Library contains more than 15,000 volumes, and there are laboratories for Physics, Chemistry, Biology, and Psychology. A modern gymnasium and swimming pool, with athletic field and tennis courts, make provision for scientific instruction in physical education and for outdoor sports. Early registration is necessary for admission.

Healthful Climate Moderate Expenses

For catalogue and book of views, address

President William A. Webb,

LYNCHBURG, VA.

Established 1894

BLACKSTONE COLLEGE FOR GIRLS

JAMES CANNON, Jr., A. M., D. D., President.

Faculty of 33; 427 Students, from 20 States.
Accredited by Virginia State Board of Education.
Hundreds of graduates now teaching.

$160 per year in Academic Dept.; $200 per year in College Dept.

The Leading Training School for Girls in Virginia

Where can parents find a College with as fine a record, with as experienced management, at such moderate cost? For catalogue address

G. P. ADAMS, Secretary,

BLACKSTONE, VA.

Eyeglasses and Kodak Experts

Norfolk Richmond
Lynchburg

Randolph-Macon Students will find it is largely to their advantage to buy of

D. B. COX & CO., Inc.
ASHLAND, VA.

They have practically everything you need at college

SHOES, HATS, UNDERWEAR, CLOTHING, NOTIONS,
ROOM FURNISHINGS

Their $4.00 and $5.00 College Shoes will do you good

HANOVER SHOE

$3.50, $4.00 and $4.50

The Greatest Shoe Value on Earth

71 Stores in 46 Cities

Factories—Hanover, Pa.

Richmond Store, 609 E. Broad St.

J. PALMER GORDON

FLORIST

ASHLAND, VA.

Wholesale orders for Ice Cream promptly attended to

G. CHIOCCA & BROS.

Fancy Confectionery, Cigars,
Tobaccos, Fruits, etc.

812 W. Broad St., RICHMOND, VA.

Corona, the personal writing machine,
for Home, Library, or Office.

Weighs Six Pounds, does everything required of a correspondence typewriter. Modern in every respect. Carries like a camera.

Free catalogue on request

The American Typewriter Exchange

605 East Main St.
RICHMOND, VA.

Typewriters of all makes, sold, rented, repaired

Start your Business Career with a Bank Account

Accounts of young men invited

4% paid on Savings Deposits

THE NORFOLK BANK FOR SAVINGS AND TRUSTS

240 Main St. NORFOLK, VA.

Established 1893

Resources over $2,500,000.00

S. J. Dorwell, Pres. F. E. Nolting, V-Pres.
W. L. Foy, Cashier

THE HANOVER BANK
ASHLAND, VA.

Capital and Surplus.....$15,000.00
Resources.....$180,000.00

This Establishment transacts a general banking business and solicits the accounts of individuals, firms and corporations upon the most favorable terms consistent with safe and conservative banking.

Directors:

J. Dorwell W. L. Foy J. G. Hughes
L. E. W. Meyberg E. W. Newman D. A. C. Ray

CHAS. STEBBIN'S SONS

ASHLAND, VA.

General Merchandise and Hardware

W. W. Foster

112 North Ninth Street
Richmond Virginia

Artist and Photographer for the Yellow Jacket

STORES EVERYWHERE -- COAST TO COAST

FOR THE LATEST STYLES

SEE OUR FASHION SHOW WINDOWS

$1.50

Manufacturers and Distributors of the Famous Oak Brand Two Dollar Hats
Equal to any $3 Hat shown - compare them

$2.00

UNITED HAT STORES, Inc.

710 E. Broad St.

RICHMOND, VA.

124 E. Broad St.

Richmond and Chesapeake Bay Ry.

Electric Trains from Ashland to Richmond

Frequent Service! No Dust! No Cinders!

Electric Current for Illumination and Power

Chafing Dishes, Shaving Mugs, and Other Electrical Devices for Sale

Ashland Office
R. & C. B. Railway Office

Richmond Office
Seventh and Franklin Streets

Drink
Coca-Cola

Facile Princeps

No beverage can approach—has ever even challenged the supremacy of Coca-Cola. It stands first. The drink that will refresh and delight you with its distinctive and delicious flavor—its wonderful thirst-quenching quality.

Delicious—Refreshing Thirst-Quenching

THE COCA-COLA CO.
Atlanta, Ga.

Whenever you see an Arrow think of Coca-Cola

Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company

Commutation Rates Between Richmond and Ashland.

Card Tickets good daily for one person only, and not transferable; per month, $5.50; three months, $15.00; six months, $26.00; twelve months, $50.00.

School Tickets good daily for one person only, not transferable; per month, $4.00; three months, $10.50; six months, $20.00; nine months, $30.00.

Family Ticket Books: 20 trips, limit three months, $5.00; 50 trips, limit one year, $10.00. Proportionate Rates between other local points.

Liberal Free Package Privileges to Commuters. Merchandise, Milk and Produce, etc., handled on accommodation trains at very low rates.

Frequent Fast Train Service at Convenient Hours Over Dustless Double Track.

W. P. TAYLOR, Traffic Manager. RICHMOND, VA.

The South's Greatest Book Stores

WILL SUPPLY YOU QUICKLY

with ANY book you want at the LOWEST possible price.

We carry a full line of Stationery, Fountain Pens, Fiction,
Bibles, Post Cards, Gift Books.

Write Us For Catalogue And Prices

Publishing House Of M. E. Church South

SMITH & LAMAR, Agents

NASHVILLE, TENN. RICHMOND, VA. DALLAS, TEXAS

ORDER FROM NEAREST HOUSE

When in Richmond, visit the

ROSE - LEIGH RESTAURANT

703 E. Broad St.

Quick Service Sanitary

Moderate Prices

Student Trade Solicited

TYPEWRITERS ALL STANDARD MAKES

FIRST SIX MONTHS RENTAL APPLIES ON PURCHASE

$10 to $50

RENTED-EXCHANGED-SOLD

Every "Young Process" rebuilt typewriter is fully guaranteed--they look like new--will render the same high grade service.

Catalogue free on request--write today for full details.

FREE TRIAL

Dept. "C."

YOUNG TYPEWRITER CO., Inc.
CHICAGO, ILL.

THE IMPORTANCE—

of Fire Insurance is recognized by all prudent men.

If not insured now, see

DAVENPORT & CO.

1113 E. Main Street

RICHMOND, VA.

BARNES' DRUG STORE

DRUGS STATIONERY
CANDIES ICE CREAM
NEXT DOOR TO BANK

Established 1872 Excelled by None

E. A. WRIGHT CO.

Engravers, Printers, Stationers

OFFICES AND FACTORY:

Broad and Huntington Streets

CENTRAL STORE:

1218 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

MANUFACTURERS OF:

Class and Society Pins, Medals, Commemorative Invitations, Dance Programs,Menus, Wedding Invitations, Leather Souvenirs, Stationery, Year Book Inserts, Novelties, Calling Cards

Send your orders for printing

to

Whittet & Shepperson

*Printers
Engravers Designers*

Richmond

Virginia

For

Reliable Furniture, Bedding and Floor Covering

Call on

JONES BROTHERS & COMPANY

(INCORPORATED)

1418-1420 East Main Street

RICHMOND, VA.

Meet Your Friends At

Bagby & Baugham's Billiard Parlor

The most congenial SPOT in Ashland

Your faith in our ability to please you is our greatest asset. If we ever fail to give you complete satisfaction, don't hesitate to kick. It is more important to us than to you that you receive a square deal. Let me be your BARBER.

JUDSON COLEMAN

England St.

ASHLAND

MURPHY'S HOTEL

RICHMOND, VA.

The largest, newest and most modern hotel in the city, located in the heart of the retail and residential section and on direct car lines to all railroads and electric depots. Murphy's Hotel is conducted entirely on the European plan, and our rates are $1.00 up. Headquarters for College Men.

John Murphy, President

Jas. T. Disney, Manager

ALBION THEATRE

3rd St., between Broad and Grace

With a program of varied and interesting short subject pictures of one, two, and three reels in length.

Also popular serials and a good full line of laughable comedies.

5 cents Admission 5 cents
Always

COTRELL & LEONARD

Makers of

CAPS, GOWNS AND HOODS

To the American colleges and universities from the Atlantic to the Pacific

472-478 Broadway NEW YORK

Incorporated 1832

VIRGINIA FIRE & MARINE INSURANCE CO.

RICHMOND, VA.

Assets January 1st, 1916—$1,852,728.19

Wm. H. PALMER, President

W. H. MCCARTHY, Secretary

J. M. LEAKE, General Agent, Virginia

Buy your jewelry where you can save money

Cocke and Co., Jewelers

533 West Broad Street

OFFICIAL WATCH INSPECTOR
R.F. & P.R.R. and Wabash Sou. R.R.

The JUNIOR Kodak Pictures in This ANNUAL
Were Developed and Printed
BY

THE ELITE STUDIO

Makers of High Class Portraits

303 E. Broad St. RICHMOND, VA.

The Southern Planter

Richmond, Va.

Established 1840

Agriculture, the nursing mother of the arts, has been advanced and advocated by this Journal for 77 years. You should have it in your homes.

MEYBERG'S

ALL THE NEWS

Safely and Plainly Presented
by

The Evening Journal

400 E. Broad St.

Richmond, Va.

By mail, $4.00 a year

THE COLLEGE PRESSING CLUB

UNDER STUDENT MANAGEMENT

W. W. MORSE, Prop.

A. H. FETTING MANUFACTURING JEWELRY CO.

Manufacturers of

Greek Letter Fraternity
Jewelry

213 N. Liberty St. Baltimore, Md.

Factory

212 Little Sharp St.

Memorandum package sent to any fraternity member through the secretary of the chapter. Special designs and estimates furnished on medals, rings, pins, for athletic meets, etc.

DIGGS & MOSELEY
General Agents

Penn Mutual Life Ins. Co.
RICHMOND, VA.

Insurance$725,000,000.00
Assets$172,000,000.00

WE SOLICIT YOUR BUSINESS

Statistics show larger income for college men entering insurance business than those entering other lines

GOOD OPENINGS AND GOOD CONTRACT

EMMETTE L. MOSELEY, Agent
WHITE PLAINS, VA.

THE NEXT STEP

Come and learn how business is conducted. Let us teach you Banking, Bookkeeping, Real Estate, Shorthand, Typewriting, Penmanship, Insurance, Commercial Law, Rapid Calculation, Business Correspondence and other subjects that will help you climb higher in your chosen profession. Individual Instruction—you may enter at any time.

Short, thorough courses (average time for a single course is from three to six months.)

Ten thousand young people, including many college and university graduates, have had the Smithdeal training. Why not you?

Call or write for catalogue.

SMITHDEAL BUSINESS COLLEGE

Ninth and Broad Sts.
RICHMOND, VA.

RANDOLPH-MACON INSTITUTE (For Girls)

College Preparatory. Special courses for those not wishing to go to College. Special advantages in Music, Art, Expression, Physical Culture. Faculty of nineteen, well equipped, experienced. Boarding students limited to 100. Attractive home life. Rates low.

Address for Catalogue

CHAS. G. EVANS, A.M., Principal DANVILLE, VIRGINIA.

THE JEFFERSON

Richmond, Va.

The Most Magnificent Hotel In The South

European Plan, 400 Rooms, 300 baths, Rooms Single and En Suite, With and Without Private Baths. Turkish and Roman Baths. Spacious Sample Rooms. Large Convention Hall. Rates, $1.50 per day and up.

O. F. WEISIGER, Manager

C. LUMSDEN & SONS, Inc.

Jewelers and Silversmiths

Wedding and Anniversary Gifts, Diamonds and Precious Stones, Sterling and Fine Electro Plated Table Silver, Gold and Platinum Jewelry, Art Glass and Novelties, College and Fraternity Jewelry, Class Pins, Rings, Medals.

Designs and Specifications upon Application

C. LUMSDEN & SONS, Inc.

"Jewelers to the Southern People"

731 East Main Street

RICHMOND, VA.

J. G. HUGHES

DRUGGIST

College Supplies, Etc.
Guth and Norris Candies

ASHLAND, VA.

CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILWAY

Three Fast Steel Trains Between RICHMOND AND NORFOLK

With Parlor Cars
THREE TRAINS TO THE
WEST

Pullman Sleepers to Louisville, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago

Unexcelled Equipment Dining Cars

Est. TOBIEN'S 1880

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry
Repair Work A Specialty

408 E. Broad St. RICHMOND, VA.

Cleaning and Pressing
First Class Work Guaranteed
Alterations a specialty
Call and get Club Rates

NEWTON PRIDDY

R. R. Avenue Opposite Post Office

HOMEIER & CLARK

Photographers

Special Inducements to Students Who Want the Best

307 E. Broad Street

RICHMOND

ATTENTION!

The first thing a young man should consider on leaving college is the protection of what he is about to do. (Your future.)

The only way to obtain this protection at a small cost is through a LIFE INSURANCE POLICY.

THE PHOENIX MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, of HARTFORD, CONN., protects its policy-holders as follows:

In case of death the face of the policy is paid to the beneficiary. In case of permanent disability, premiums cease and a LIFE INCOME paid the insured, ($10.00 per month per $1,000) and face of policy paid at death. See, Write or Phone

COLEMAN BROTHERS, Managers

336-8 Arcade Building

Norfolk, Va.

RANDOLPH-MACON COLLEGE FOR MEN

1830 ASHLAND, VA. 1917

A Methodist institution that stands for genuine scholarship, manly character, Christian principles, and offers to its students the highest grade of education at the least cost.

Located in the heart of historic Virginia, the birthplace of Patrick Henry and Henry Clay, sixteen miles from Richmond, with electric car and Railroad service hourly.

Modern dormitories equipped with up-to-date conveniences, such as steam heat, electric lights and shower baths.

Prepares men for the study of Law, Medicine, Applied Sciences and the Ministry.

Confers the degree of B.S., A.B., and A.M.

Strong Faculty. All students especially first year men, given personal attention by full professors.

Loan funds available to help worthy young men.

Write us now about your son who is planning to enter college next fall. A postal card will bring catalogue.

R. E. Blackwell, A.M., LL.D., President

S. C. Hatcher, D.D., Vice-Pres. and Sec'y-Treas.

THE END

