The New Friends

Every college student knows how difficult it is to move into a new place and also meet new people. Freshmen orientation is designed to make the transition into college life easier and less stressful for students.

"My biggest concern before coming to college was homesickness and getting along with the people in my dorm," freshman Elizabeth Byrd said.

Orientation is filled with icebreakers and plenty of other activities such as a fountain-side barbeque, tie-dyeing and Challenge Discovery that allow freshmen to meet their classmates and feel more at home on campus.

The class of 2014 took a trip to Challenge Discovery, where they had to work together and learn to trust one another without really knowing them. Challenge Discovery is an outside adventure filled with rope courses and team building activities.

Also as a class, the incoming students participated in a tie-dye event and were able to watch their Orientation Leaders and Resident Assistants perform in the College Life Play which demonstrates what life is like at Randolph-Macon College.

"I really enjoyed the play because it was pretty accurate and hilarious at the same time. It was my favorite event during orientation," freshman Roberta Plum said.

He's been dubbed "New Artist to Watch" by Rolling Stone magazine and an "East Coast star in the waiting" by VIBE magazine and on September 18, 2010 Randolph-Macon College was lucky enough to house him in our very own Alumni Gym. He is Wiz Khalifa, who was named MTV's Hottest Breakthrough Artist of 2010. The brains behind the whole operation? Chandler Weston '13 and Wesley Morck '10.

"Chandler Weston had talked to my booking agent Graham Power that I have used for all of KA events and every single CEC event and with support of CEC he presented an awesome presentation and it was hard for the president to say no to it! Once we agreed to have him come we got to work and Graham, Chandler and myself kept in touch all summer and put it together," senior Wesley Morck said.

It was a great turnout and sadly not everyone was fortunate enough to see the Wiz. There was a long line that wrapped around from the Alumni Gym to the sports teams lifting room. Doors opened at 8:45 p.m. and only 600 people were allowed to be in the gym at any given time.

"Well, not everyone got in which was a problem, but we had never had problems with filling Alumni or even the Brock before with people plus guests. I mean Big Gigantic played here last April and for those of you who don't know just did a sold out Red Rocks in Colorado with STS9 the biggest electronic group in America right now...it's hard to judge these things," said Morck.

Despite of some backlash, the concert was a success, and Wiz Khalifa still performs in the old basketball R-MC jersey he was given and performed in.

Bringing Back the BUNCE

Waking up, senior Kimmy Potter knew that this day was different. Just the previous week she discovered that she was one of the nominees for the senior homecoming court. And now that it is Saturday Potter was preparing herself to walk in front of the attendees of the Homecoming Football game. "Winning homecoming queen was kind of like being Cinderella and having the glass slipper fit," said senior Homecoming Queen Kimmy Potter. During the homecoming game at half time, the homecoming queen was crowned with students and alumni looking on. This year's homecoming court was full of those who are not only involved but was voted in by the entire school.

This year's homecoming court representatives for the freshman class were Ashton Dear and Will McGhee. The sophomore class elected Jessie Guerin and Dan Lutz. The junior court was Brady Hatfield and Laurel Martin. And the senior class court representatives were Joe Varner and Ali Shiflet as well as Kimmy Potter and Wes Witmeyer. This year's homecoming king and queen were Wes Witmeyer and Kimmy Potter.

"The rest of the football game I felt like a celebrity. People were congratulating me, taking pictures with me, and even asking for my signature for a scavenger hunt," said Potter.

After the game students were invited to go the Brock Center for the homecoming Borderline Crazy dance. There students were able to make personalized shirts as well as dance with friends while enjoying themselves. "I would like to thank the amount of Student Body that came out and took part in the Homecoming Dance and enjoyed themselves and the Novelties that were set up there," said senior Danavin Tucker, who coordinated the entire dance.

Habitat for Humanity's Shack-A-Thon

Every year Habitat for Humanity tries to raise awareness about homelessness in America. A make-shift cardboard box town is made and is set up around the fountain so that everyone can see and be reminded that poverty and homelessness do exist in the United States.

Fences November 17-20, 2010

Fences is a drama by August Wilson about Troy Maxson who, with his family, endures racial inequality in 1950s Pittsburgh. The play was directed by Melissa Mowry for her senior drama project and was put on from November 17, 2010 to November 20, 2010. The actors included: Anthony Keitt, John Holleman, Shenochia Jordan, Cherelly Williams, Taylor Saunders, Victoria Robinson, Nick Alaniz, and Diana D'Amato.

Senator Thomas R. Carper

November 5, 2010

United States Senator Thomas R. Carper is an active member of the Environment and Public Works Committee and is the chair of the Subcommittee on Clean Air and Nuclear Safety, so when the First-Year Experience course "It's Not Easy Being Green" wanted a guest speaker Carper was the perfect choice. The event was public, and following his presentation, Carper mingled among some Randolph-Macon College professors and students.

Beyond Therapy

October 20-23, 2010

Beyond Therapy ran from October 20, 2010 to October 23, 2010. It was directed by Anna Perritt for her senior drama project and Chris Mollen did the set design for his senior drama project. Beyond Therapy is a comedy about Bruce and Prudence who are both in therapy and are searching for that certain someone. On their first date Bruce reveals to Prudence that he is bisexual, or so he thinks. Most of the actors on stage were new faces. Actors included: Nicolette Edwards '14, Cody Weinberg '14, Miles Shipman '13, Annamaria Diaz '12, Kristian Spencer '14 and one veteran, Derek Gayle '11.

"Randolph-Macon field hockey has been the most amazing experience of my entire life. I have met some amazing people that I will always remember and have made some of the best memories of my entire life. I couldn't imagine going through my freshman year without playing sports. If I hadn't, I would never have met the people or made the memories."

Through sweat, blood, and tears, the Randolph-Macon Field Hockey Team, better known as women's "Fockey," finished with an overall record of 13-7 and a conference record of 6-1. The lady Jackets had a thrilling ride this season full of awards and recognitions. Coach Crystal Carper received the ODAC Coach of the Year Award. Seniors Erin Claire Cassidy and Monica Jenkins received recognition on the 1st Team All-ODAC along with Mary McCarthy and Kendall Lamb who received 2nd Team All-ODAC.

Two of the six freshmen made an outstanding first impression during the first season: Lauren Seal and Mikaela Rumley. Seal defeated all freshman statistics by scoring a total of 33 points in the overall season; Rumley scored 24. With a record of 7-6 prior to the ODAC, the lady Jackets entered energized, eager, and ready to battle for the title of ODAC champs.

Their semi-final ODAC game was against the Washington and Lee Generals. The Jackets kept ahead of the Generals for the entirety of the match and concluded with a score of 5-3. With this win under their belt, the Fockey girls advanced to the championship game against the Lynchburg Hornets.

The Jackets held off for the first half, keeping the score tied 0-0 but at the start of the second half the Hornets scored two goals. They managed to hold off the other three shots keeping the score 2-0. Even though they lost, they ended with a bang. They made it to the ODAC Championship game and were rewarded with a number of awards. The lady Jackets hope to make an even bigger bang next year.

And the Show comes to a close

Dear R-MC Community,

Here it is! The final production of the Yellow Jacket Annual. We have come so far from just an idea to this book. Thank you to everyone who helped along the way: Paige Dillon, Kenny Horowitz, Charles Kesner, Molly Muse. We could not have done it without you.

We would also like to thank Jen Cadwallader our advisor and Jason our Jostens representative.

Sincerely,

Dan Lutz
Hillary Sherbert
